911 addition budgeted at $98,750

by DOUG DUSIK
Lakeland Newspapers

The Antioch Village Board is looking at a $98,750 addition to the Police Dept. building to house the new equipment for the Lake County voter-approved, enhanced 911 system.

Village Administrator Tim Wells is recommending that the cost be split with Lake Villa and Lindenhurst emergency agencies, which the Antioch Police Dept. dispatches for.

However, the Village Board did not approve of the plan at its regular meeting Monday, directing staff instead to come back to the Jan. 20 meeting with any less costly alternatives.

Antioch is one of four calling centers in the county for the enhanced 911 emergency phone system, which voters approved in 1990.

The enhanced system displays a caller's address on the police dispatcher's screen, making it unnecessary for the caller to speak. All information can be sent to squad car computers as well.

The enhanced system hardware and squad car computers are being financed through a phone tax surcharge.

But in order for Antioch — and the other three assigned calling stations — to have the new equipment installed, the Police Dept. must meet the standards dictated by the Illinois Commerce Commission (ICC).

Those standards include space, security and fire code. After studying the Police Dept. building design, the Antioch Village staff concluded it would be most cost-effective to expand on the present Police Dept. facility.

The proposed addition would stretch out 8 feet and 24 feet from the present Police Dept. building and would include a new main entrance.

The records and dispatching area, now in the same cramped room, would be separated.

"The dispatchers are theoretically supposed to be sealed off from everybody," Wells said.

Village, Twp. agree to help PACE driver

by DOUG DUSIK
Lakeland Newspapers

She may not need it, but at least PACE driver Sandy Krahel can rely on the Village of Antioch and the Antioch and Lake Villa twps. to aid her with an increase in insurance costs.

As of the first of the year, Krahel's insurance agency was rated below the standard that PACE accepts. A new insurance agency was recommended.

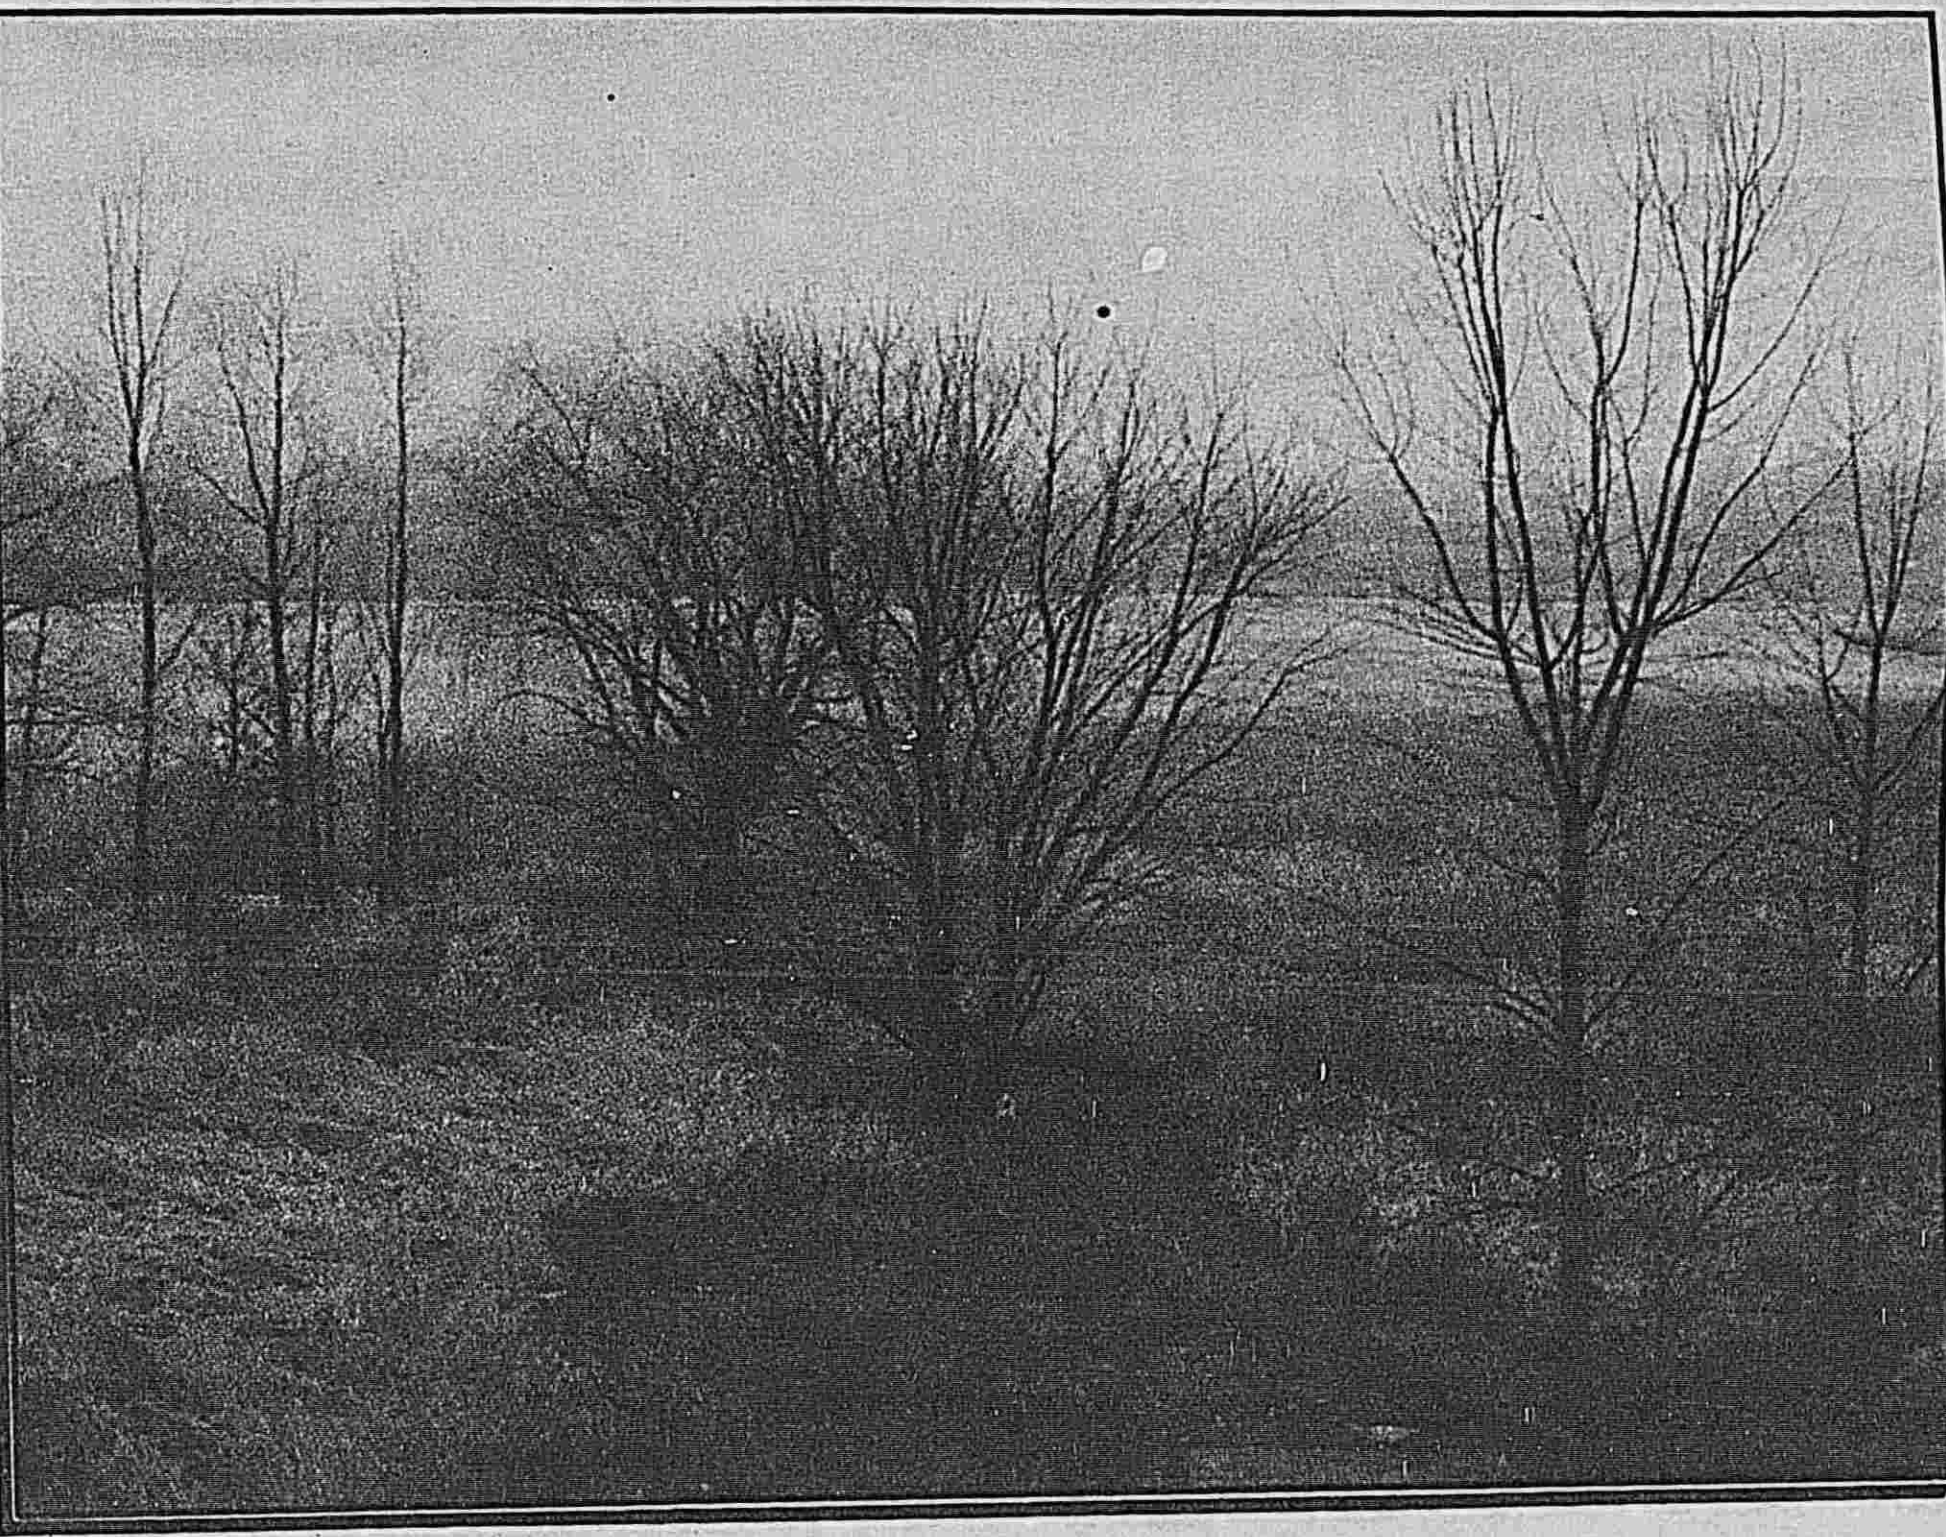

But new insurance will reportedly cost the driver about $1,200 more a year. Krahel said she can't afford it.

Enter the Village and twps. They have agreed to split the difference of the insurance cost increase should Krahel require it.

She may not. On Wednesday, PACE's Board of Directors was scheduled to decide whether to allow Krahel to keep her current insurance company until the new ratings come out this spring or have her change companies now.

Krahel said she presently pays between $4,200 and $4,600 to insure her Courtesy Cab Co., which is contracted to provide Dial-a-Ride service in Antioch and Lake Villa.

"We can't just leave those senior citizens (who use Krahel's service) without something, and PACE has nothing for (Continued on Page 8)

Teens, parents seek more youth activities

FOX LAKE — Municipal government was the target Monday night when a large group of teens and parents aimed its appeal for more youth activities in Fox Lake. The uproar came in the wake of the death of 14-year-old Randy Plasky, who died Dec. 31 after he and six other teenagers inhaled an aerosol fabric protector, Scotchgard. Senior Trustee Darwin Follman, sitting in for vacationing Mayor Frank Meier, said the kinds of facilities and activities requested would come under the park district Fox Lake doesn't have. "Two referendums to create a park district were defeated in the last four years," Follman said, citing the public's unwillingness to bear the extra tax burden.

Trustees support Fort Sheridan bid

GURNEE—An attempt to seek local momentum for Lake County Forest Preserve obtaining some of Fort Sheridan property gained support in Gurnee, but not without opposition. Trustee Mark Ratfelders voted against the resolution backing the Forest Preserve Jan. 6 calling it inappropriate. The Gurnee vote was 5-1. Grayslake also approved the resolution.

Group organizes to fight request

GRAYSLAKE—A capacity crowd of 300 residents Tuesday attended a hearing of the Grayslake Zoning Board of Appeals regarding a conditional use permit by Skokie Valley Asphalt. An organization, Citizens Against Asphalt Pollution (CAAP) is leading the opposition. The long-time Grayslake firm wishes to resume asphalt production. The matter will be continued to 7 p.m. Feb. 11 at Grayslake Community High School.

Board opposes DOC land condemnation

ANTIOCH — To the gratitude of property owners in the area, the Village Board is opposing the Illinois Dept. of Conservation's (IDOC) land condemnation near Redwing Slough. On Monday, the Antioch Village Board approved a resolution opposing IDOC's actions and sent letters to Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis and

Rep. Robert Churchill. "The Board's problem is not in condemnation itself; it is the representations that were made by IDOC and (yourselves) regarding this issue," the letters state. Early in 1991, IDOC and property owners agreed that Redwing Slough would be protected by developers and that land in the area would be bought up by the state only from "willing sellers."

Driver may face 9-year sentence

ROUND LAKE— An Antioch man faces up to nine years imprisonment after he was found guilty of reckless homicide. Robert Stanley, 23, was convicted in the death of Sheri Best, 17, Round Lake, on Oct. 5, 9:30 p.m. near Orchard Court and Idlewild Drive in Round Lake Beach. At the recommendation of his attorneys, Public Defender Joseph Collina and Asst. Public Defender Dorene Kuffer, Stanley chose to resolve his case with a stipulated bench trial which eliminates witnesses. Only summaries of testimony are presented. The half-hour proceeding resulted in a guilty verdict. Stanley is expected to appear for sentencing Feb. 27.

Centennial Park drive continues, $5,000 so far

by DOUG DUSIK
Lakeland Newspapers

At least 50 people did not attend the Antioch Centennial Playground Committee's "Holiday 'Spirit' Ball" last month, raising $5,000.

And more money keeps rolling in. The non-event was part of the committee's "buy-a-brick" program to raise the estimated $63,000 it's going to take to build the playground.

Participants were told not to attend the "Holiday 'Spirit' Ball," but to send a check "in spirit" instead.

"With the hustle and bustle of the Christmas season upon us, we did want to bother you with another fancy fund-raiser to attend," read the invitation.

"We invite you to stay at home and relax with your family. All we ask is that you return the enclosed card with a contribution and NOT come to our non-event."

One hundred bricks were sold at $50 each. The names of each donor were included on the purchased bricks, which will line a path leading to the playground.

The committee reported that more bricks are still being bought. The program will continue into March, along with other fund-raising events.

"We're going to try to do different fundraisers to offset different costs," said committee member Bob Schneider.

PM&L theater has agreed to do a benefit performance in the spring and cooperative bake sales are planned.

Fund-raising is being handled by committee members Dan Burke, 395-5181, Carol Todd, 395-2160, and Jim Lienhardt, 395-4276.

Additionally, the committee is looking for sponsors to purchase and donate pieces of playground equipment. And businesses are invited to give materials that could be used to build the playground.

Donated materials are being coordinated through Ed Koziorowski, 395-8987, and Ted Jozefiak, 395-8523. Be sure to call before purchasing any materials as the builders are very selective about what they will accept for use in the playground.

Volunteers are still being sought for the "old-fashioned-barnraising-style" that the playground will be built by May 13-17.

The committee estimates 1,000 people will be needed. Volunteer coordinator Joanne Osmond is waiting for calls at 395-2500.

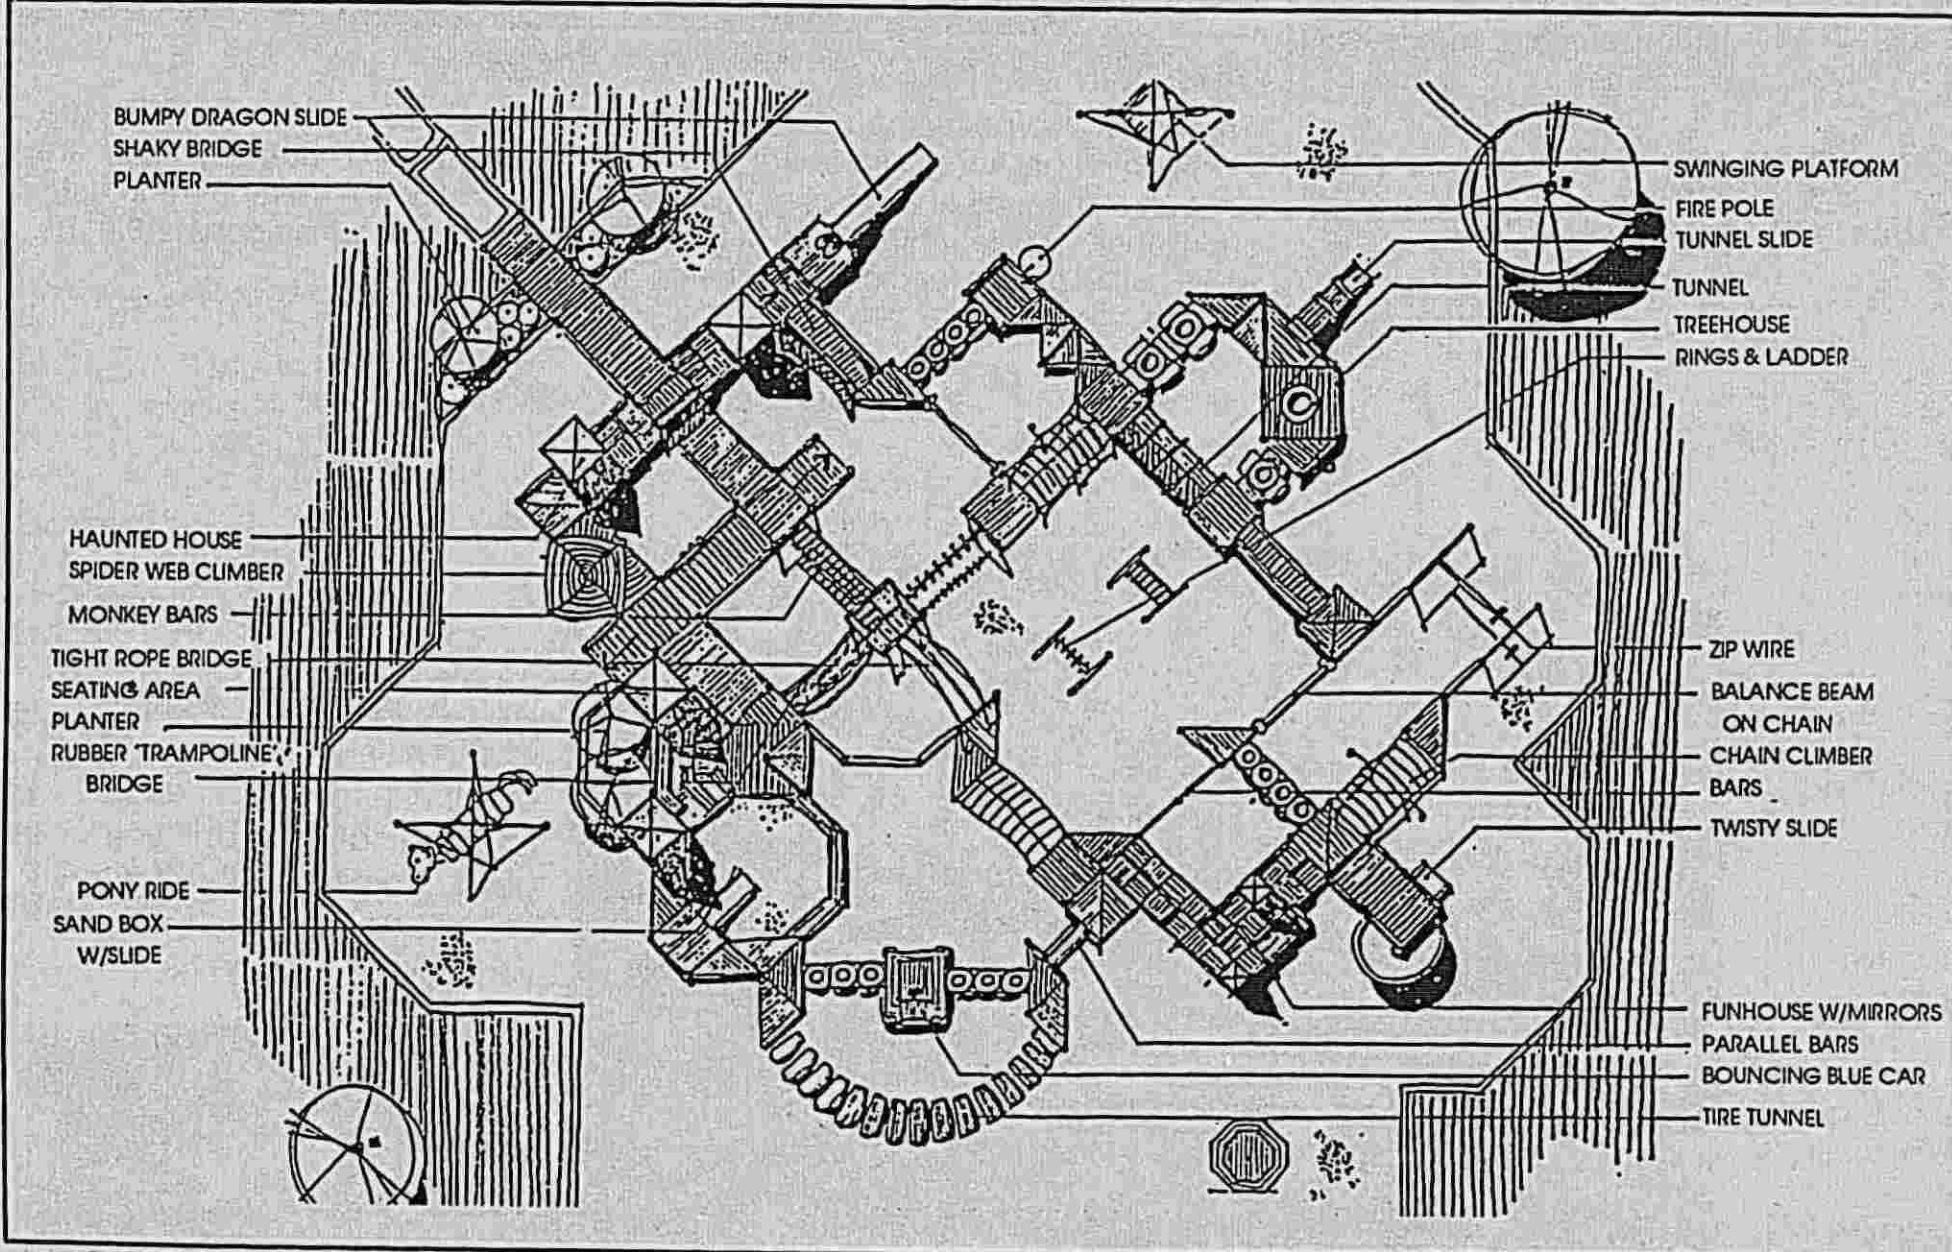

Tool donations are also needed. If you are interested, be sure to call Wally Ruppert at 395-4932.

Overseeing construction will be representatives from Robert S. Leathers Architects, the designers of the playground.

Jane Lewis, an architect with Leathers, visited Antioch's grade schools in October. She left with a number of ideas for the playground from local children.

The preliminary design for the playground was recently released. Centennial Playground will be located in Centennial Park on Anita St. between Depot St. and North Ave.

The project is one of many activities the Village is undertaking in celebration of its 100th anniversary this year.

This schematic diagram of Antioch's proposed Centennial Park playground was recently released by architects Robert S. Leathers. It is based on the suggestion of local schoolchildren. Residents will help build the playground on May 13-17 in observance of Antioch's 100th anniversary.

Board protests IDOC condemnations at Redwing

by DOUG DUSIK
Lakeland Newspapers

To the gratitude of property owner Robert Miller, the Antioch Village Board is opposing the Illinois Dept. of Conservation's (IDOC) land condemnation near Redwing Slough.

For two years Miller worked with IDOC and the Village of Antioch on the

'The Board's problem is not in condemnation itself; it is the representations that were made ... regarding this issue'
— Antioch Village Board letter to legislators

Hidden Creek Development. He agreed to restrictive zoning stipulations on his property in return for an agreement that prevented land in the area from being condemned.

Miller was one of two property owners near Redwing to recently receive a letter of condemnation from IDOC. A third condemnation action is rumored.

On Monday, the Antioch Village Board approved a resolution opposing IDOC's actions. Letters were sent to Sen. Adeline

Geo-Karis and Rep. Robert Churchill as well.

"The Board's problem is not in condemnation itself; it is the representations that were made by IDOC and (yourselves) regarding this issue," the letter states.

Churchill and Geo-Karis were invited to be part of the negotiations between IDOC and the Antioch Twp. Property Owners Assoc. in 1990.

Included with the letters are copies of a letter of understanding reached early in 1991 between IDOC and property owners in the Redwing Slough area.

Among the 10 points of agreement signed by IDOC Director Mark French and Roger Secrist, president of the Antioch Twp. Property Owners Assoc., is the idea that IDOC will acquire property in the area from "willing sellers."

"IDOC will not be compelled to acquire property or interests in properties ... if current use is compatible with natural area and natural preserve objectives, and there is no contemplated adverse use," reads another agreement point.

Miller, who contends he is not a "willing seller," agreed to zoning restrictions for the Hidden Creek development that would preserve the Redwing Slough.

One such restriction incorporates a two-tier buffer system to prevent any construction near Redwing.

Miller said the marsh and nature preserve are, in fact, big selling points to his development, and their destruction would be detrimental to Hidden Creek's success.

Still, several property owners in the area have expressed concern over what will happen to Redwing Slough as IDOC continues to buy land there.

The conservation department confirmed last month that approximately 300 acres had been purchased in the Deer Lake area and announced plans to eventually acquire another 700 acres there.

Secrist has said it appears that every time a development stake goes up in the Redwing area, IDOC plans to condemn and acquire that land.

Miller said IDOC wants to condemn 50 of his 74 acres near Redwing Slough.

In its letters to Geo-Karis and Churchill, the Village Board is requesting the legislators to use their "good offices to persuade the Illinois Dept. of Conservation to live up to the representations made to the Antioch Twp. Property Owners Assoc."

Following the Board's action, Miller said, "It reinforces my belief that that site is not only where I would like to live but Antioch is the kind of place I would like to raise my children in."

Welcome back!

Illinois Bell awards local its highest honor for bravery

by DOUG DUSIK
Lakeland Newspapers

Jeffrey Hines wasn't thinking of awards when he jumped out of his car and ran across Lake Shore Drive in 1989 to chase a knife-wielding man away from a woman he didn't know.

When a pregnant Patricia Love drove past a burning apartment complex two years ago, she probably never realized her actions later would be rewarded by her employer.

'I guess I was in the right place at the right time.'

— Jeff Hines

But both Illinois Bell employees last month were given the Illinois Bell Vail Award, one of the company's highest and most prestigious honors.

The award is presented to employees who have demonstrated heroism and public service during a crisis.

Hines was driving down Lake Shore Drive and looking for the Museum of Science and Industry on Feb. 12, 1989, when he spotted a man with a knife accosting a female jogger.

Leaving his family and some friends in the car, Hines crossed 10 lanes of traffic to get to the woman, who had been stabbed in the back. The suspect had fled.

He drove the woman to a hospital for treatment. "I guess I was in the right place at the right time," Hines said.

With his family sitting in the car, and crossing lanes of busy traffic in an area miles from his hometown, Hines bravery was instinctual.

"There wasn't any question in my mind. I had no idea what I was doing," he said. "But I just couldn't sit there and let this guy beat up that woman. I was just lucky, I guess."

Love demonstrated her courage on Sept. 17, 1989. She was driving along Lewis Ave. in North Chicago when she saw flames and smoke enveloping the roof of a building at 2114 Barrett Pl.

She stopped the car and began alerting residents of the danger. When she received little response, Love began evacuating the building.

Despite her pregnancy, she carried out several residents wrapped in blankets amidst falling debris. Finally, after being overcome by smoke, she was taken to a nearby hospital for treatment.

"It was just an instinct," Love said. "At the time I wasn't thinking. After it was all over, that's when I thought about what I did and I thought it was crazy."

A resident of North Chicago and a Bell operator in Waukegan, she said she would do it all over again.

"I have a high regard for human life," Love said. "I only hope that if the day ever comes that I need the help of a Good Samaritan, someone will be there."

Love is the first woman to receive the Vail award.

"I was really trying to play it down and say it was no big deal," she said. "But everyone kept telling me it was a big deal."

Love said too many stories of Good

Samaritans end in tragedy, but this wouldn't deter her from assisting again. Nor is she afraid of telling others to be Good Samaritans.

"No matter what the situation is, if you can help, help," she said.

A Fish Tale

Maybe I should rename this column "Lizard's Animal Stories" rather than "Hometown Goodies" as I now have another animal story to share with all of you.

When my son's catfish, Whiskers, died this summer he replaced it with a baby large mouth bass. Most people keep tropical fish in aquariums. However, the Schmehl's are not like most people. Instead we spend tons of money on fish tanks and accessories to house ordinary lake fish captured in our very own channel off of beautiful Lake Marie.

While Whiskers just sort of moped around and hung on the bottom of the tank, Alfred, the bass, actually watches what we are doing. When he sees us approaching his fish tank, he swims to the front and swims to the right as we walk to the right and back to the left as we walk to the left. We now realize this is his way of letting us know it is feeding time.

As we walk to the freezer for his shrimp brine (yes, he is spoiled), he lurks in the corner. When we walk back to his tank he swims to the top, waits for us to open the lid and drop the shrimp in. For special occasions, we buy him a dozen minnows and within a day or two, they all disappear and he swims with a smile on his face.

Once again, dumb animals indeed!

Beautiful Baby

During a packed house for the Grass Lake School Christmas program, I eventually took up residence along the wall between a set of parents tending a beautiful baby girl with gorgeous big, dark eyes. As Daddy proudly tended his little daughter, I leaned over to Mom and asked who she had in the program. When I found out that the announcer (Daniel Jorudd) was her son, I realized I was talking with Kim Stafford, whom I had only conversed with by phone. I then introduced myself to her and her husband, Tom, and inquired about the baby.

The baby's name is Elizabeth Ann. She is eight months old. Tom and Kim were delighted to be blessed with this latest addition to their family and said that all of Elizabeth's older brothers

Happy Birthday

As is the tradition of the Hometown Goodies column, I now wish all of the January birthday people (and one dog) a "Happy January tidbit or some special publicity in Hometown Goodies is a phone call to The Lizard.

I love highlighting special family moments, anniversaries, births, birthdays, class reunions, special family vacations, pet stories and, last but not least, cute stories or "bloopers." I also enjoy covering special school activities, PTO functions, parades, hometown events, civic organizations and the like.

So, if you are involved in any of the above (and who isn't?), please give me a call.

Our local schools are staffed by many fine teachers who plan class projects "above and beyond" such as science fairs, book fairs, spelling bees, drama programs, math contests, art festivals, etc. Why not make a New Year's resolution to utilize Hometown Goodies as an avenue to highlight these special activities and honor the students who achieve honors in academics, citizenship or athletics.

Hometown Goodies

and sisters were enjoying having a baby around the house again.

Congratulations to all of the Stafford/Jorudd family members, and keep spoiling that precious angel for that is what it is all about!

Lip Movement

As things began to fall a little behind during our Camp Crayon Christmas party, I began to urge the children to hurry along with their snack and juice so that we could begin our grab-bag game.

After about the third time of listening to my nagging, little Brian Parker exclaimed (as he drank his juice), "Miss Liz, I'm going as fast as my lips can go!"

Once again, out of the

Cermak celebrates birthday 80

by DOUG DUSIK
Lakeland Newspapers

"Welcome to my 80th birthday — see you at my 85th," stated the T-shirt of former Antioch realtor Charles Cermak.

A party was held in September at Dobyn's House on Fox Lake. Cermak's six children, who still live in Antioch, attended.

Also present was Cermak's second wife, Mitzie, who wore a T-shirt emblazoned with the words, "Charlie's Angel survived."

Cermak makes it back to Antioch every year "to shake the money tree," he says. But for the last 15 years his home has been Florida.

"I'm not retired, I'm on permanent vacation," Cermak says. His present home is in Riviera Beach, Fla., where "there's always something to do."

His particular favorites these days are fishing, golfing and traveling. And there's always the visits from his children during the winter.

"It's beautiful country out here," Cermak says.

And warm.

His advice for a good, long life is activity. In Antioch, he was very active in the Lions, the American Legion and he spent two years as president of the Lake County Board of Realtors.

In Florida he belongs to a country club and continues his membership with the Elks and Moose lodges.

Cermak says he won't miss Antioch's centennial this summer when he comes to visit children Chuck, Charlene, Jim and triplets Joe, Ann and Mary.

Former Antioch realtor Charles Cermak is alive and well and living in Florida with his wife of 27 years, Mitzie. He recently turned 80.

Moose lodge honors Troop 92 Eagle Scouts

Antioch's Loyal Order of Moose Lodge 525 honored the 24 Eagle Scouts that earned scouting's highest award from Troop 92 since 1962.

During the troop's annual Christmas dinner at the Moose Lodge, lodge officers John Gipson and Ralph Gussarson presented each Eagle Scout or his representative a framed certificate of achievement signed by the National Relationships Committeemen and the Moose director general. Assisting were Lodge Administrator Denis Dingsdale and Scouting Coordinator Jim Eischen.

The Troop 92 Eagles during the 1960s included Tom Wojnowiak, Pat Hofkamp, Major Hill, Rick Berger and Don Edwards. The Eagles of the 1970s were David Edwards, Joseph Green, Graham Bury, John Rosquist, Ralph Sander, David Aschbacher and David Gade. The 1980s Eagles included John Aschbacher, Gregory Aschbacher, Philip Aschbacher, Paul J. Hettich, Nick Zeien, Philip Hettich, Mark Aschbacher, Brian Clark, David Weston and Stephen Goetzelman.

Brian Paschke is the first Troop 92 Eagle Scout of the 1990s but several Life Scouts are currently at the doorstep of earning Eagle honors.

Following these awards, Scoutmaster Dick Weston, Committee Chairman Ray Harting and Advancement Co-Chairmen Bill Goetzelman and Ray Landrum announced awards earned during 1991.

The troop or unit awards included 1991 BSA Quality Unit, 1991 National BSA Camping, first and second place in the Lakes Dist. Klondike Derby, first and second place in the Lakes Dist. First-Aid Meet, the Baden Powell award for campsite maintenance at Camp Owasippe, second and third place in the Lakes Dist. Camporee, and the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency award for the joint Troop 92/Chain O' Lakes Park wood duck nest project.

During 1991 Troop 92 scouts earned 39 merit badges and 12 rank advancements, including one Eagle, five Star, three First Class, two Second Class, and one Tenderfoot. The 49 special awards earned by individual scouts included 12 President's Environmental Protection Agency certificates, 10 Galena Trek patches, 10 Fifty Miles Afloat patches and nine Polar Bear patches.

Recognition for special individual achievements went to Gene Brown for serving on staff at Jr. Leadership Training and at Camp MaKaJaWan, Jeremie Pederson for attending Jr. Leadership Training, John Harting and Brian Paschke for attending Nat'l. Jr. Leadership Training at Philmont Scout Ranch in Cimarron, N.M., Chris Sittler for earning Den Chief, and Eric Burgess, Geoff Landrum, Chris Sittler and Steve Weston for earning the coveted Order of the Arrow award. Asst. Scoutmaster Ray Landrum also received the Order of the Arrow.

Troop 92 expressed its thanks to the guests who attended the event and to the many businesses and other organizations in the community who support troop activities. A delicious holiday dinner was served by Lodge 525 members under the supervision of Gov. Joe Gutowski.

Following the awards and the retirement of colors, the group was honored by a visit from Santa, who presented gifts to younger members of the audience who had sat patiently through the awards ceremony.

Boy Scouts of America

Troop 92 is sponsored by Antioch's Moose Lodge 525 and conducts its meetings at the Antioch Scout House on Tuesday evenings from 7 to 9 p.m. For information about Troop 92, contact Scoutmaster Dick Weston at (708)356-9269.

Three Antioch Chamber of Commerce members were elected to the Board of Directors last month.

Debilyn Cooksy of Antioch Golf Club, Gary Klean of Lyon's Ryan Ford and Richard Zeman of Antioch Pizza Shop were selected by Chamber voters between Dec. 16 and Dec. 23.

Each year the Chamber of Commerce Board consists of nine individuals trying to represent the diverse range of businesses operating in the Antioch area.

The new directors will join six others already in place for 1992. They and their businesses are:

Reed Ano, Colette Plumbing; Frank DiMarco, DiMarco's Restaurant; Flo Heiselmann, Flo's Family Hair Care; Allan Robbins, First Natl. Bank of Antioch; Russ Dusak, James Hamlin & Co.; and Fred Stahl, Stahl signs.

us," said Antioch Twp. Supervisor Jim Fields.

The Antioch Village Board agreed at its regular meeting Monday to split the cost with Antioch and Lake Villa twps., if necessary.

Fields said Antioch has agreed to help Krehl, as has Lake Villa Twp., which was first to offer when Krehl discussed her problem with Supervisor Sue Hanson.

PACE is reportedly recommending to its Board that Kahl be allowed to keep her present insurance company until the new ratings come out.

PACE is the suburban arm of the Regional Transportation Authority. Under the Dial-a-Ride program, PACE pays for either 75 percent of or $2.50 per fare, whatever is cheapest.

Local communities pick up the rest of the fare. The rider typically pays for half.

Veith resigns from ZBA, environment committee

Joe Vieth has resigned from his long-time position with the Antioch Zoning Board of Appeals.

In a letter read Monday during the Antioch Village Board's regular meeting, Vieth stated that he was moving out of Village limits and could no longer serve his positions.

He also was a member of the Antioch Commission on the Environment.

The Board voted unanimously to accept Vieth's resignation "with regret."

ACHS Student of the Month

Jason Bonds, center, was chosen for his outstanding academic effort, personal qualities highlighted by leadership, dedication, an exceptional work ethic and extracurricular activity. Bonds was nominated by Antioch Community High School business teacher Joann O'Connell, right. Bob Haggarty, left, of the Bank of Waukegan, Antioch Facility, contributed $100 on behalf of the bank in Bond's name to the ACHS Parent/Teacher Scholarship Fund.

Dept., while the new addition would include thicker walls and a chemical extinguishing system for fires.

Wells suggested that the Police Dept. could be ready for the new system by November. The bulk cost of the renovation will be allocated to next year's budget, not this year's, he said.

Antioch should pay for 55 percent of the Police Dept. addition and updated radio equipment necessary to operate the 991 enhanced system, Wells recommended to the Board.

He said the rest of the cost should be divided up among the other six agencies the Police Dept. dispatches for: Antioch Fire Dept., Antioch Rescue Squad, Lake Villa Fire Dept., Lake Villa Rescue Squad, Lake Villa Police Dept. and Lindenhurst Police Dept.

The Board appeared to agree on splitting up the cost but not on approving the addition at its face value.

"I get the feeling that we are trying to meet some idealistic requirements of the state," said Trustee Don Amundsen. "I can't believe that every dispatch center (in Lake County) is going to blanket comply with the state."

Police Chief Chuck Miller said the state's requirements have been pared down to the minimum to get ICC approval.

"We have already chiseled down our designer plan as much as possible," Miller said. "They're (ICC) letting us slide already because we're in an existing building."

"I just don't know what's possible," Amundsen said.

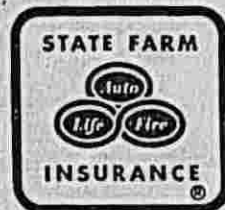

The Board then agreed to look at alternatives to the Police Dept. addition at its next regular meeting on Jan. 20.

William C. Petty served county schools for 50 years

by RHONDA VINZANT
Lakeland Newspapers

William C. Petty was a man who influenced education in Lake County for more than 50 years, 40 of them as County School Superintendent for Lake County. He died Jan. 1, 1992, at the Birch Hill Nursing Home in Shawano, Wis. The Antioch resident was 93.

Petty, who taught in a one-teacher school in 1919, went on to be the principal in Grayslake in 1923 and three years later moved to Antioch, where he became the superintendent of the elementary school. In 1931, he was elected as county superintendent of schools for Lake County, a position he held for 40 years until he retired Aug. 1, 1971.

William Thompson of Antioch served as Petty's assistant from 1952 to 1958. "That five years in my life was like earning two masters degrees," Thompson said. "Everything I learned from him, I learned in a practical way."

Thompson was a year ahead of Petty's eldest son, Frank, at Antioch High School and roomed with Frank at the University of Illinois in 1941. "Knowing him (Petty) all my life, I guess I felt like I was one of the Petty kids," he added. "I just took for granted his many accomplishments. Some were wonderful and some weren't. He used to say, 'Bill, if I'm right more than half of the time, that's all I can expect.'"

One of Petty's most outstanding achievements was in 1960, when he organized the Special Education Joint Agreement District of Lake County.

According to Thompson, Petty summed up the job as head of county schools by saying, "You run with the hare and hunt with the hounds." Thompson explained by saying, "in the job you have to help both sides of an issue. A lot of what you do is mandated by the state and you have to work with both sides. Petty was a master at dealing with people and made many friends as the result of being a kind, fair person."

In his 40 years as head of county schools, Petty never lost an election.

"I've seen campaign literature from 1931 where he ran on the platform of bringing electrical lights and running water to every school in the county," Thompson said. "He was a fireman who was available when ever there was a need to assist in anyway that he could."

"At the College of Lake County, I don't have to sacrifice quality to get the cost-saving advantages of affordable tuition and living at home."

"The college offers many challenging degree programs like engineering, which I'm studying. My courses will completely transfer to a four-year university, and I get the benefit of small class sizes and personal attention from faculty rather than teaching assistants."

"With the start I've received at CLC, I'll be fully prepared to finish my bachelor's degree at a four-year university."

Registration for spring classes is now underway.

Classes start Jan. 21. Call 223-3636 for more information.

Looking for polluters

If you drive anything but a brand new vehicle and haven't received New Year's greetings from the Secretary of State's office, you soon will.

Likely as not it will invite you to have your car or truck emission tested. Those who don't won't get new license plates.

No thanks to the final phase-in of the state's vehicle emission test program, more cars will be tested starting this year.

For that purpose a new test station has been set up in Wauconda.

If you live in Lake County you are likely included in the expanded program along with 500,000 other drivers in DuPage, Kane and Will counties.

No problem, though, if you live in so-called rural communities like Antioch, Fox Lake, Ingleside and Island Lake. You're exempt. Cars there apparently don't pollute the air as much.

Until now, all 2.3 million vehicles in the affected counties underwent annual tests, regardless of the model year. What was learned? Newer vehicles almost never fail. Older ones fail more frequently.

So that's why 1990 and newer cars can wait four years for their first test. After that it happens every two years until the car is eight years old. Then, it happens every year.

While hooking an analyzer to the tailpipe, an inspector will give the vehicle a tamper check. This is to keep drivers honest by making sure all anti-pollution devices like catalytic converters, proper gas caps and fuel inlet restrictors are in place.

The test is free. It takes time, a little gas to get there, and, depending on the day of the month (lines are shortest at beginning, longest at the end), it will take patience, too.

The good news is that 83 percent pass. The bad news, the older the car, the worse the odds.

Keep letters coming

This is a good time of year to pay tribute to the countless readers and citizens who make an invaluable contribution to this newspaper week in and week out, the letters to the editor writers.

Last year an estimated 780 persons submitted letters to Lakeland Newspapers, most of which were published all or in part. The letters covered a broad range of topics, mostly public issues. The publisher of Lakeland Newspapers deems it an honor, indeed, an obligation, to print as many letters as space permits. The letters column is one of the most popular departments of the paper and consistently ranks high in periodic readership surveys.

One interesting trend deserves mention. That is a willingness of local citizens to stand up and be counted. They sign their name and address as policy requires.

During the past 12 months, only a handful of anonymous letters were received. (Unsigned letters do not get published). Even a lesser number requested that their name be withheld from publication, which we grant on occasion when the situation dictates.

The letters column serves a more important function than permitting readers to let off steam. The column provides a highly visible platform for local residents to share a viewpoint with their neighbors, and, in more than a few cases, challenge the editorial opinions the newspaper presents. (We cherish the challengers).

Whatever your purpose, continue to write. Letters to the editor play an important role in American journalism. Keep'em coming!

Columnist 'flip flopping'

Unfortunately, Joe Soulak's column of Dec. 27, 1991, perpetuated a misunderstanding regarding Rep. Peterson's endorsements. The column alleged that Rep. Peterson had endorsed Verna Clayton for the 51st district seat, but that he had backed off when Bobbie O'Reilly complained. An earlier column of Mr. Soulak's correctly noted that the endorsement was unauthorized and incorrect. Rep. Peterson's position regarding endorsements is, and always has been, that he would support the candidate that was endorsed by the Lake County Republican Party Executive Committee. Since Verna Clayton was the unanimous choice of the committee, it is only logical that given his position on endorsements, that Rep. Peterson would support Verna Clayton.

Perhaps Mr. Soulak should refer to his old columns before accusing someone of "flip flopping." Otherwise, someone would be justified in accusing Mr. Soulak of "flip flopping" on the facts.

Winchester thank you

On behalf of the residents of Winchester House, I want to thank all of those who participated in our Christmas gift and stocking stuffer programs. The residents were delighted and overwhelmed by your generosity! Your thoughtfulness made the difference. It was wonderful to see all the young students who participated this year from various schools: Gavin Central—kindergarten, third grade; Highland Upper Grade Center sixth grade Student Council; Lakeview School in Grayslake—sixth grade class; Libertyville High School; Copeland Manor School fourth grade;

Mundelein High School—National Honor Society; and Rockland School in Libertyville.

Thank you to all the girl scout and boy scout troops, also. We had a wonderful turnout this year and appreciate all of you who helped make this one very special Christmas.

Protect lakeside site

Editor:

At the Jan. 6 meeting of the Lake Zurich Village Board the trustees were to discuss whether to continue with the planned construction of a second water tower to be built in Paulus Park. Paulus Park is the only lakeside recreational facility which the village owns and which the general public has access to. Given the political climate which currently exists on the Board, this meeting will probably be the last opportunity residents of Lake Zurich will have to voice their concerns about the use of this facility for the water tower.

Even though the need for a second water tower to service the northeast quadrant of the village is apparent, it is less apparent why the Paulus Park site has been designated for the tower. At a Dec. 23 meeting of the Community Development Committee no one on the committee, no one on the board and none of the village's professional staff could say that this site was the lowest cost site available. Additionally, board members have decided to overlook the recommendation of their own Planning Commission against the use of Paulus Park for the second water tower.

A lower cost alternative site in Kushman Park was rejected due to the efforts of Doing it right marked life of W.C. Petty

by BILL SCHROEDER

I first met Mr. Petty as an eighth grader at Hawthorn Consolidated School when the county superintendent of schools made his annual visit to our then two-room school.

It wasn't until years later that I discovered that the courtly and scholarly educator was called by any other name.

Funeral services this week for William C. Petty who died at age 94 in a Wisconsin rest home brought back a flood of memories about the man who guided, molded and set Lake County educational standards for 40 years.

As a newspaperman I got to know him well enough to address him as W.C. But I never felt brave enough to address the stately gentleman by our shared first name as did his close associates.

In today's educational turmoil with backbreaking financial problems, militant teacher unionism and students engulfed by substance abuse, it's easy to forget that there were tough times years ago when Mr. Petty served as the county superintendent.

A good many of his problems stemmed from school consolidations and the formation of unit districts. Problems like a principal rigging test scores or a principal getting smacked by a union business agent during labor negotiations are mild compared to the rancor generated when revered one room schools were closed and all sorts of sacred cows were gouged as grade and high school districts were unified as in the case of communities like Lake Zurich, Wauconda, Barrington and Round Lake.

In those battles, people said outrageous things and acted like third world revolutionaries. This was the environment into which Mr. Petty often was called to serve as mediator, referee and counselor. Throughout all the controversy, W.C. Petty remained a pillar of civility and sensibility. Dressed impeccably and always speaking in calm, modulated tones, Mr. Petty handled tough situations fairly and even handedly. Did anyone ever see Bill Petty get angry?

I marveled at how he could handle powder keg situations so coolly and confidently. Looking back, I believe he had an innate sense for doing what was right, for children and the community. People trusted him because they knew he would be fair and do the right thing.

While still hale and hardy, he retired from office and dropped out of the limelight so he could remain at the bedside of his beloved Lilly who became desperately ill in her last years. What a change for a man whose word was virtually law in local education for four decades. But, as always, Mr. Petty was doing the right thing.

When nature's time clock began ticking louder and the once dynamic public figure became infirm, friends would return him to his hometown of Antioch for special occasions. He was recognized instantly and greeted as Mr. Petty, W.C. or Bill, depending on how well you knew him.

Now that he is gone, there can only be wonderment whether there will be another school chief like him in Lake County. We sure could use his calming influence and wise counsel.

KEY CONFAB—Virtually a who's who of county business leaders will be in attendance at a meeting of the Lake County Business Industry Education Consortium Tuesday, Jan. 14, to hear an address by Robert W. Galvin, chairman of the executive committee of Motorola, Inc. Galvin is a leader in business support of education. Galvin will be introduced by Peter Cherry, CEO of Cherry Corp., Waukegan. While Galvin will speak on industry and education, no doubt everyone in attendance will be looking forward to his views on business conditions.

GOODBYE—Shed no tears for Dist. 5 Country Board Rep. Andrea Moore who lost her bid for reelection on a petition filing technicality. Moore, president of the Lake County Forest Preserve, tried to have it both ways—like a typical politician—taking a crack at state representative while protecting her county job. It didn't work. Moore professes to love government, but she usually ducked tough decisions, like when leadership sorely was needed to pass a $45 million bond issue for Forest Preserve land acquisition and waffling in the controversy over the Cunco Estate. Moore still has a year to serve on the County Board, more than enough time to make amends if she chooses.

CATCHY SLOGAN—Credit Howard Bieze, candidate for the Lake County Board from new Dist. 5 of Grant and Wauconda townships, with coming up the first political slogan of the new year—or the last one of 1991. "Bieze" was agog when he telephoned the news. "The Choice is Easy—Vote for Bieze," exclaimed the long-time Wauconda Republican. "That ought to attract some attention." Bieze insists that he has no idea what the job pays. "Honest. I don't know. I'm running because I think I can get something done." At least Bieze can't be criticized for being a know-it-all.

GOP's new math and Old Abe

JACK IN THE BOX

Libertyville's political kingmaker, Jack Martin, is responsible for two less people on the March primary ballot.

No thanks to him, Andrea Moore of Libertyville isn't running for re-election to the County Board in Dist. 13. She's chairman of the Forest Preserve district board. Also history is Ronald Kurpiers in Dist. 11.

Why? This gives his candidates in these races a better chance of winning.

In Dist. 13 it's Libertyville dentist John Schullen. Gladys Roper provides token opposition. Moore's never did her political homework with Martin. The setback has to be devastating to Moore's ego. Philosophically, she says this gives her more time and resources to devote the race for state representative in the new 61st Dist.

Kurpiers had the audacity to file for the Dist. 11 County Board race. That made three hopefuls from Wildwood (across from the Lake County fairgrounds) along with Richard Raftis and Andrew Milowski.

Those odds aren't good. Kurpiers was sacrificed because he had only 24 valid signatures on petitions. Which gives Martin's candidate, Raftis, more of a fighting chance.

The unknown factor in this race is Raymond Lacroix of Grayslake. He's an open spacer and not exactly a favorite of County Board Chairman Robert Depke.

As for Martin, where will Jack pop up next?

NEW GOP MATH

State representative Robert Churchill (R-Lake Villa) and other GOP leaders are trying to teach our children new math, says one pundit.

These people we know and respect are trying to gerrymander a remap of state legislative districts. The map that favors the GOP is now before the courts.

"The Democrats did this to us in 1981," our Republican leaders say. "This time it is our turn."

Which begs the question: "Do two wrongs make a right?"

CRANE TARGETED

Some people would like to see Congressman Philip Crane (R-Mount Prospect) retired.

Trying to do it is his 8th District challenger, Gary Skoien of Palatine. He has challenged Crane's residency. Is it Arlington, Va., where he has a home and reportedly spends much of the year? Is it a new home on the Fox River in McHenry he claims as a voting address? Or is it the Mt. Prospect home of an aide his campaign nomination papers give as an address?

Skoien has asked the state elections board to declare Crane's petitions illegal. State and federal law, he says, defines a person's voting address as the legal address. That puts Crane outside of the district in which he wants to run. All of this was the subject of last week's press conference.

Skoien is attacking Crane on another issue, too. It is his 23 years in Washington. Skoien thinks that is w-a-a-y too long. That was what this week's press conference was all about.

If elected, he is committed to serving only 10 years.

What's next week's salvo?

LOCKING IN VOTES

Edna Schade of Deerfield has done her homework. She's running for state representative in the new 60th Dist. in the southern part of Lake County.

Also on the ballot are Deloris Axelrod of Highland Park, retired County Board member, and Charles Cardella, a Buffalo Grove businessman.

Cardella has done as much for the Republican party in Lake County as anyone. But he's not even rated by the party for the March primary. Schade and Axelrod are listed as "qualified." That's because the endorsement committee couldn't come to a clear-cut consensus.

Getting back to Schade, she has locked up some important endorsements. No less than five mayors from Vernon Hills to Deerfield say they will vote for her.

How's that for making political hay?

OLD ABE IS BACK

One politician who never says die is F.T. "Mike" Graham of Libertyville.

It's election time. And he's running again. This time it is for a return trip to the County Board from which he retired in 1989. That's when the federal government made it too hot in the kitchen. Graham came away clean as a whistle, but a little older and wiser.

Now, he's filed in the new 15th Dist. That's mostly Libertyville. Opponents are incumbents Jim Dolan and one-time protegee, Carol Calabresa.

"I've won 11 elections and lost four (including two comebacks)," he said about being in and out of office for 20 years between 1969 and 1989. Most of those years were as Libertyville Twp. supervisor.

"Abraham Lincoln lost seven elections before he was elected," Graham recalled.

How will Graham win this time? "By using the same (open space) theme I've used for the last 20 years," he said.

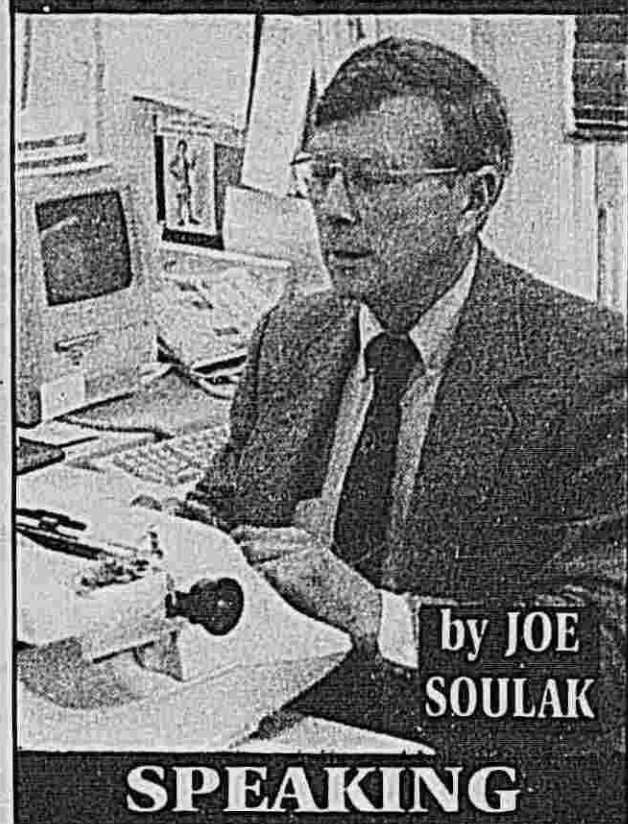

Will voters buy it? "We'll see on March 17," he said of election day.

OVERHEARD/SEEN

LIBERTYVILLE—Jack Cervac is the Democratic candidate for the County Board in Republican Dist. 13. That's where incumbent Andrea Moore got kicked off the ballot for circulating a faulty petition. The hopefuls are Libertyville Trustee John Schullen and Gladys Roper. Cervac got involved as the result of a phone call. It came from county Democratic party Chairman Betty Ann Moore. She read a letter to the editor he wrote criticizing political kingmaker Jack Martin of Libertyville. She thought he sounded like a Democrat and would be a good candidate.

WAUKEGAN—Deloris Axelrod, Republican candidate for state representative in the new 60th Dist., didn't realize her power when being interviewed on Waukegan radio WKRS one day earlier last month. While answering a question on gun control, the station incurred a power problem. The station was off the air for 15 minutes outside of the immediate Waukegan area. "Glad you didn't ask me a question about bombs," she is supposed to have quipped.

POLITICALLY

WADSWORTH—"It's a dirty deal," said county Democratic party Chairman Betty Ann Moore of a possible political coup coming our way. It involves state Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis (R-Zion) of the 31st Dist. Assuming she wins next year's race, word has spread she will serve two of her four years and resign. Her successor? None other than County Board member Robert Neal of Wadsworth. Moore thinks voters, not politicians, should decide this one. Geo-Karis vehemently denies the scenario.

WAUKEGAN—Sybil Yastrow, who has stepped down as regional superintendent of schools, never really needed the job. Her husband is Shelby Yastrow, chief legal counsel for the McDonald's Corp. in Oak Brook. Yastrow did the office credit during her years in charge.

a group of vocal residents whose houses surround Kushman Park. Clearly, the board does not expect similar opposition to the Paulus Park site. Clearly, the board, and in particular Trustee Campbell would rather build the tower for a higher cost in Paulus Park than to risk having to deal with the 20 to 30 NIMBY (Not In My Back Yard) residents of Kushman Park again.

Given that the board is understandably reluctant to ruffle the feathers of any single group of residents that would be sure to object to whatever site is proposed, it seems reasonable that all possible sites should be placed on the table at once and the lowest cost, least impactful site be chosen which best services the needs and addresses the concerns of the community as a whole.

Such decisions as the location of public utilities are difficult and messy. But these are the tough decisions that board members are entrusted to make. It is the responsibility of the board to ensure that the general interest of the community, and not the apprehensions of a tenured minority are well served. Furthermore, it is the responsibility of the residents of that community to ensure that the board lives up to its obligations. I believe that a majority of Lake Zurich residents would prefer not to have their last lakeside recreational facility used for public utility projects.

Still a good place

Editor:

People are talking about Mayor Kay and his followers who can't seem to cooperate with the majority party on the village board. It is obvious to me, as well as other residents with whom I have spoken, that this problem is being interpreted as Lake Zurich is a village that doesn't work.

Upon reflecting as to why I and I presume so many other people have moved here over the past five years, I can say that all the good things that induced me to move to Lake Zurich are still in place. We have an excellent and expanding school district, fine recreational facilities in Lake Zurich Youth Baseball, Elia Soccer, the park and rec department and our lake and beaches. I notice our streets are paved and plowed, police and fire protection are never criticized and our retail shopping opportunities are expanding to meet the needs of the residents.

No homeowner who has invested money in property in Lake Zurich wants their village to have the reputation that it is gaining. Mayor Kay and Trustees Demos and Winchester must realize that the candidates they supported for village trustee positions lost in the last election and the new majority party are the standard bearers for what the residents of Lake Zurich expect in village government. It is important that these trustees learn to cooperate with one another to improve the reputation of this village.

Endless revenue source

Editor:

It's not a wonder Warren Township needs more general assistance money. Just this past year Supervisor Robert Depke transferred somewhere around $225,000 from the general assistance fund to the town fund. Now he needs to replenish the GA fund. He seems to think the taxpayers are an endless source of revenue.

If Depke needs more money now, why did he transfer the money out of the fund just a short time ago? Maybe he didn't know because of spending so much time on another "public trough" job, and gallivanting to Washington at the taxpayers' expense.

Knit a better sweater, get a brand-new brew

David and Carol Norton offer an unusual combination at the shop they share in Kenosha. Norton's Worts is a haven for the home brewer, while Skeins is neat for knitters. — Photos by Greg Miller

by GREG MILLER
Lakeland Newspapers

Just down the street from where the Kenosha Twins play baseball, there's a twin-purpose shop where you can get all the ingredients to warm yourself inside and out.

Norton's Worts and Skeins — two specialty shops under one roof — are run by the husband-and-wife team of David and Carol Norton.

Skeins are spools of yarn, and Carol has plenty of those plus everything else needed for knitting and crocheting. Hand-made garments can be perfect personal insulation.

David's side is Norton's Worts. That's Norton for Norton and Wort for unfermented beer. It's a home-brewing supply shop. Give yourself the gift that creates a warm feeling inside.

Perhaps more important than the products offered by David and Carol is their expertise. Carol has been an avid knitter and crocheter since she was 8 years old. David is one of only four master beer judges in the entire U.S.

The Norton's business partnership began almost four years ago, while their life partnership began with their marriage 18 years ago.

Carol got the ball rolling in the spring of 1988 after being an assistant to a local doctor for several years.

"I was in between jobs," Carol said. "I came into the yarn shop — they were having a clearance sale — I offered to buy her business, and she accepted."

David, a 21-year veteran and lieutenant on the Kenosha Fire Department, had been brewing in their basement. He had a small business going obtaining supplies for members of the local home-brewers club and others interested in making home brew.

"She wanted to start a place," David said. "I was operating out of the basement, and people were calling me at home on Saturdays and Sundays."

The final result was Skeins and Norton's Worts.

"It's been different," Carol said. "It's eliminated the considerable responsibility of overhead. To be in business — especially at this time — you need more diversity. It would be hard to support a brew shop in Kenosha. A lot of people knit, but not many of them knit all the time."

Carol said she's selling quality products and good advice.

"People can go to the discount stores," Carol said. "Some people will say, 'I can get it cheaper at Wal-Mart.' I say, 'Then go to Wal-Mart and have them help you with your problem.' I offer a better quality of yarn and my experience."

Some of the brand names available at Skeins are Brunswick, Red Heart, Philidar, DMC and Coats & Clark.

In addition to the yarn, thread, patterns, instructions and other paraphernalia offered are finished products like custom-made afghans, sweaters and baby apparel.

To top it all off, Carol leads ongoing classes. A new round of classes starts this month.

David began home brewing just nine years ago with some equipment from his father, "who was brewing when it wasn't quite legal," he said.

In less than a decade, David has become one of the country's top beer experts. In the six years he's entered his own home brew in contests around the country, he's earned over 100 awards. Some of his most prestigious accolades include Best of Show from among over 400 entrants in the 1990 Dixie Cup competition, Second Best of Show at the 1990 Wisconsin State Fair and first place in the 1990 Home Beer and Wine Trade Association judging.

David said the advantages to home brewing are many.

"You get premium-import quality beer at domestic prices. It's fresh beer. The best beer is fresh beer — there's no doubt about that. You know what's in it — there are no chemicals or additives. And home-brewed beer has a lot more flavor and body."

"There are over 2,000 varieties of beer in the world, and American's drink one: a very light pilsener."

At Norton's Worts — the only shop of its kind between Chicago and Milwaukee — the experienced or the novice home brewer can get the makings for bitters, stouts, ales, porters, old ale, barley wines, lagers — the list goes on and on.

All it takes is one of Norton's starter kits and a couple cans of malt extract. Norton's Worts also offers a wide variety of yeasts (dry and liquid), hops (pellet and loose) and grains needed to brew from scratch. Bottle-cappers, tubing, fermenting vessels, large stainless-steel spoons, hydrometers, thermometers — Norton's has it all.

Some of the ready-to-brew extract mixes on hand include Edme, Ironmaster, Coopers, Irek's, John Bull, Laaglander, Muntion & Fison, Bier Keller, Alexander's, Premier, Telford's and American Eagle.

If you're into the grape, never fear. Norton's Worts also carries wine-making necessities.

David is a member of the local home-brewers club, The Bidal Society of Kenosha, and brews about one-third of the beer served at Brewmasters Pub Restaurant & Brewery at 4017 80th St. in Kenosha.

And finally, don't worry if either David or Carol isn't in when you visit the store.

"Basically, I can make beer and I have made beer," Carol said. "I know about it, but I'm not the expert."

"I don't knit, but I know where things are kept and the names of things if someone asks for something," David countered.

Norton's Worts/Skeins is located in Simmons Park Plaza at 7625 Sheridan Rd. Call (414) 654-2211.

Make some financial resolutions for 1992

by TERRANCE R. GAERTNER

Now that 1992 is upon us, it's a good time to think about making (and possibly even keeping) important financial resolutions. This new year promises to offer a lower interest rate environment than we have seen in many years. There are ways you can take advantage of it.

First, you should take out a pad of paper and a pencil and list your assets and liabilities individually. Look first at your liabilities. Do you have any non-deductible consumer debt such as credit card balances, auto loans or any other debt not secured by your first or second residence? How does your debt's interest rate compare to the current prime lending rate of 7.5 to 8 percent?

If you have consumer debt as described above, you have several possible options. If you have savings earning a 4.5 percent or 5 percent and maintain consumer debt costing you 18 percent, pay off as much of the consumer debt as possible from savings.

If you own a home, you may be eligible for a home equity loan. Often available at one percent over the prime rate, the interest on your home equity loan is tax deductible.

Consider paying off your consumer debt with a home equity loan. Make sure that one of your financial resolutions is not to run up significant new credit card debt again. Also, be sure that you can handle the home equity loan payments since your home is at risk if you default on the loan.

Next, look at your home mortgage. If you have an adjustable rate mortgage, you can expect your monthly payments to decrease. Use the extra cash to pay off your consumer debt.

This way to wealth

If neither of the above options are available to you, see if you can pay off a high interest rate credit card with a new lower interest rate credit card. There are a number of credit cards available today that charge 13 to 15 percent annual interest.

If you have a large fixed mortgage and you intend to keep your home for a number of years, compare your mortgage rate to the current rates available to determine if refinancing is in order. This would be a good time to lock in today's low rates.

Next, take a look at your investment assets. This would include those assets invested in your retirement plans at work and in your IRA account. With certificates of deposit and passbook savings paying less than five percent, you will need to look to other asset groups if you want to increase your return.

If you are five or more years away from retirement and have the risk tolerance needed for stock investing, you should have a significant exposure to the equity markets. While stocks undergo volatility, if your investment time horizon is sufficiently long, your investment portfolio should have a representative percentage in stocks.

How much stock is right for you? If you can stomach short term losses, have other funds for liquidity and you are five to ten years from retirement, I would suggest that you have between 25 percent and 50 percent of your portfolio in equities.

Invest into the equity market gradually through the use of "dollar cost averaging." By investing a set amount into the market (my clients use stock mutual funds) on a regular basis, you minimize the risk of a volatile market during your investment period.

If you are on a fixed income and fear the volatility of a pure stock investment, consider a balanced mutual fund. This is a fund that invests in both stocks and bonds. The mix of stock vs. bonds is adjusted by the mutual fund's managers based on interest rate trends and the condition of the stock market.

The current yield on one of the better balanced mutual funds is 6.7 percent. In addition to the current yield, there is the opportunity for capital appreciation. The volatility of a balanced fund will be less than that of a 100 percent stock fund and it provides better inflation protection than a 100 percent bond fund.

Finally, consider high quality municipal bonds or high quality municipal bond funds. Current tax free yields on one of the high quality muni bonds funds that we deal with is 6.61 percent. If you are in the 28 percent tax bracket the taxable equivalent yield is 9.2 percent.

Do not let this low interest year pass you by. Make the appropriate financial resolutions and then follow through with them. If you are not good about keeping your resolutions, consider working with a financial advisor who will help keep you on track.

Lindenhurst couple parents of county's first 1992 baby

by RHONDA VINZANT
Lakeland Newspapers

Mary and Tim Zidek of Lindenhurst celebrated New Year's Eve without party hats and champagne this year. Instead, they spent the final hours of 1991 in the labor and delivery room at Good Shepherd Hospital in Barrington.

Their New Year's celebration began at 1:16 a.m., when seven pound, 20 inch Charles Robert Zidek became the first baby born at a Lake County hospital in 1992.

"The thought that he might be a New Year's baby, had never crossed our minds," said Tim Zidek.

"My due date was Jan. 4th, so we just expected it to be another week or two," Mary Zidek added.

Mary went to the doctor's office Tuesday morning with what she thought were labor pains. An examination by the Dr. Dan Pesavento revealed that her water had broke and she was admitted to Good Shepherd. Eleven hours later, Charles arrived.

"It wasn't that bad," Mary said. "I had Tim to lean on. He was really great and helped to keep me focused," she said beaming at her husband of three years. "The hospital staff was also very supportive and helpful."

The Zidek's moved to the growing village of Lindenhurst a little over a year ago. Mary, 28, works in office management for Pratt Roofing Company in Wauconda. Tim, 27, is an arborist with the Construction Division of Hendricksen the Care of Trees, Inc., of Wheeling. Mary grew up in Milwaukee and Tim in Riverside.

"We wanted to live away from the city," Tim said of their Lindenhurst home. "We're very happy there, it's a nice, quiet town."

Charles is the first grandson born on the Zidek side of the family and becomes Charles Zidek III, having been named for his paternal grandfather and uncle to whom the family is very close. His middle name, Robert, honors his maternal grandfather. "I think he'll get called a little bit of everything," Mary joked. "Charles, Chuck, Charlie, I think they'll all be used."

Charles joins a host of grandchildren on both sides of the family, so there are plenty of cousins, waiting to show this first-born how to cope with the world. Both sets of grandparents were his first visitors.

The new family went home to a waiting nursery Friday morning. Mary's mother will be staying for a few days to help out and Tim will be taking a week off from work.

"We didn't know whether he was a girl or a boy before he was born," Mary said. "We just wanted a healthy baby and that's what we got, she said cradling the sleeping newborn in her arms."

While Tim joked off his Irish Catholic heritage rich in the tradition of large families, Mary says a sister for Charles may be planned someday, but is not even a thought at the moment. "Right now, I just want to get home and get a good night's sleep," she said longingly while Tim chimed in, "we could go for a whole rugby team." Tim comes from a family of seven and Mary a family of four.

Picking up Charles and cradling him like an old pro, Tim said of fatherhood, "I'm not sure how I'm suppose to feel, but it's a wonderful feeling. I think he's a neat little gift."

"I'm a little nervous, but ready to go home and sleep in my own bed," said Mary of motherhood adding, "He's really just great. I think the reality of being a parent will hit us when we get home. We are very blessed."

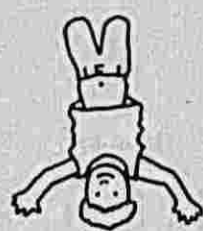

Mary and Tim Zidek with Charles Robert, Lake County's first baby of 1992. Charles made his grand entry at 1:16 a.m., Jan. 1 at Good Shepherd Hospital in Barrington.

Good Shepherd plans birth center expansion

Because the number of births at Good Shepherd continues to climb, the hospital soon will expand its Birth Center by adding more labor-delivery-recovery (LDR) rooms and a special care nursery.

Immunization clinics for children

The Lake County Health Dept. offers immunization clinics for Lake County children.

Childhood immunization clinics will be held at the following locations and times. A parent or guardian must accompany all children.

Lake County Health Dept., Belvidere Medical Bldg., 2400 Belvidere Rd., Waukegan, every Monday from 1 to 3 p.m.; Tuesday from 8 to 10 a.m.; and Thursday from 1 to 3 p.m. No appointment is necessary.

VFW Post 451, 75 North Ave., Antioch, Jan. 15 from 9 to 11 a.m. No appointment is necessary.

Wauconda Twp. Office, Rte. 12 and Bonner Rd., Wauconda, Jan. 22 from 9 to 11 a.m. No appointment is necessary.

At the clinics, children can be immunized against polio, diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough (DPT), measles, mumps, rubella (German measles) and haemophilus influenza, type B (HIB).

Parents are asked to bring their children's past immunization records. If a child has an immunization letter from a school nurse, it should also be brought to the session.

For more information call the Lake County Health Dept., Communicable Disease Program, (708)360-6761.

Although Good Shepherd's Birth Center already underwent a major expansion and remodeling project two years ago, more space is needed.

"Since 1985, there has been a 61 percent increase in births at Good Shepherd," said Judy Piesch-Racine, manager of obstetrics and women's health at the hospital. "And, we've chalked up another record by having more than 2,000 births this year."

The hospital received approval of a Certificate of Need for construction of the $600,000 expansion which is scheduled to begin in May. Work on the project will be phased in to minimize disruption of the Birth Center.

When completed, Good Shepherd's Birth Center will feature 10 LDRs, 22 postpartum beds and a trio of nurseries to care for 22 healthy infants along with eight special care babies.

Good Shepherd is state licensed to provide both Level I nursery care for healthy newborns and Level II intermediate care for newborns experiencing problems.

"The eight-bed special care nursery will be an extension of Good Shepherd's neonatology services which were added in September 1990," said Piesch-Racine. Neonatologists (physicians specializing in high-risk newborns) are available 24 hours a day at the hospital.

In addition, Good Shepherd's Birth Center nurses have completed neonatal intensive care training to care for sicker newborns. With this higher level of care, more premature babies, infants with infections or newborns experiencing respiratory problems will be able to stay at Good Shepherd instead of being transferred to another facility.

"We already have the staff and state-of-the-art technology such as ventilators, intravenous therapy and neonatal monitoring," pointed out Piesch-Racine. "When the expansion project is completed, we'll have a totally renovated obstetrics unit in which we can deliver the most up-to-date and quality care available."

Good Shepherd Hospital, an Evangelical Health Systems hospital, is located north of Barrington on Hwy. 22, two miles west of Rte. 59.

A whiff of death.

That's what young people are getting in increasing numbers as they turn to common household substances in search of an escape.

As if the usual organic drugs — cocaine, marijuana, heroin and alcohol — and synthetic concoctions — LSD, amphetamines and barbiturates — weren't enough to wreak havoc on young minds and bodies, children and young adults have tuned into the high delivered by cheap, readily available and deadly agents like hair spray, gasoline, butane and spray paint.

The sad statistic hit home last week when 14-year-old Randy Plasky of Fox Lake died and seven of his friends were hospitalized after inhaling a fabric protector, Scotchgard.

The national anti-drug abuse campaign has overlooked the perils of inhalant abuse, but a new organization, the International Institute for Inhalant Abuse (IIIA) was formed in February of 1991 to help deal with the problem. The IIIA is a non-profit organization funded by the National Institute on Drug Abuse (NIDA).

Catherine MacIntyre, executive director of the IIIA, said her organization is trying to get the word out.

"There's so little information available," MacIntyre said. "Prevention, education — and even treatment — they're just not out there."

MacIntyre said schools, law enforcement agencies and others hoping to address the problem should contact her organization.

"The best thing for them to do is to contact us. They need to be trained in educating kids."

"Kids need to know they can die the first time they use it."

The IIIA defines solvent or inhalant abuse as "the deliberate misuse of chemicals inhaled to attain an intoxicated state of mind and body. They are chemicals which are made to glue, paint, and polish, and produce a 'high' when used improperly, or abused. They are products which were never meant to be sniffed on purpose. In fact, these products are very dangerous to your health."

MacIntyre said there are over 1,400 abusable products available. Typical substances include fabric protector, butane, gasoline, nitrous oxide, felt-tip marking MacIntyre said it's believed one young victim died from a surge of adrenaline to his already malfunctioning heart when he was startled. Another victim's heart stopped when he attempted to run away from a police officer.

The temporary physical effects of inhaling are disturbed vision, impaired judgement and reduced muscle and reflex control.

The telltale symptoms are many and include an intoxicated appearance, slurred speech, a chemical smell on the breath, a decrease in appetite and weight loss, a red or runny nose or nosebleeds, a decreased interest in personal hygiene and appearance, paint stains on clothing and skin, confusion, stupor, paleness, mood changes, restlessness, a dazed or dizzy look, hand tremors, headaches, sores or a rash around the nose and mouth, a chronic cough, poor memory and nausea.

Other signs of abuse are pop cans, plastic and paper bags, rags and socks that have a chemical smell. The substance is often sprayed into these items to better facilitate inhaling.

Long-term effects include permanent neurological damage and damage to the liver, kidneys, heart, brain and bone marrow. Other illnesses can include gastroenteritis, hepatitis, jaundice, blood abnormalities, the slow healing of wounds, poor breathing and the loss of hearing.

The IIIA was formed under the direction of Neil R. Rosenberg, M.D., the world's leading expert on inhalant abuse.

"Dr. Rosenberg started dealing with it in the emergency room at Denver General in 1983," MacIntyre said. "He saw symptoms he'd never seen before. They'd be highly intoxicated, but it would dissipate very rapidly."

Glue sniffing was cited as a problem within the last two decades, but steps were taken to remove the intoxicating ingredients.

Groups and individuals looking for additional information can write The International Institute for Inhalant Abuse, 701 E. Hampden Ave., Suite 550A, Englewood, Colo. 80110 or call (303) 788-4617.

Teens to be charged after inhalant death

by GREG MILLER
Lakeland Newspapers

Six of the seven teenagers present when one of their friends inhaled a lethal dose of the fabric protector Scotchgard last week will be charged, according to Fox Lake Police Chief Ron Nagel.

Randy Plasky, a 14-year-old Stanton School student, died Monday, Dec. 30 after he and his friends inhaled the toxic substance, which had been sprayed onto a paper towel. The teens were in a vacant lot on Lippencott Road.

All seven of the surviving youths were hospitalized and released.

Nagel said the only girl in the group of 13 to 15-year-olds won't be charged after it was determined she had not actually inhaled the aerosol product.

"Six of them will be charged with inhaling an intoxicant," Nagel said. "And we might charge one, maybe two, with reckless conduct."

Nagel said the charges will have a two-fold effect.

"We want to make sure they get some help. And we want to send a message that we're not going to tolerate it."

"It's not a game — it's not something fun," Nagel continued. "It can kill you the first time you use it. It's as simple as that."

Nagel said the dangers of inhalant abuse will have to become part of the overall drug-awareness effort.

"It's something we're going to have to approach and be concerned with. We'll have to do some educating in this area."

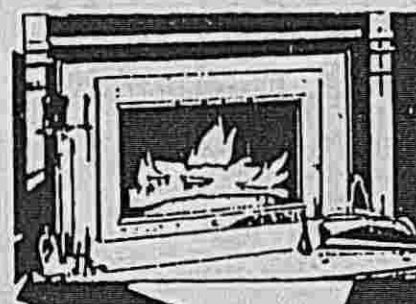

Plasky was characterized as an excellent athlete and a gifted artist. He was on the basketball team and had won an essay and poster contest during Drug Awareness Week.

His classmates speculated that he couldn't decide which group he belonged to within local teenage society.

High court overturns compensation issue

Now that an Appellate Court decision has overturned Circuit Court findings that former Avon Twp. Supervisor Norman C. Geary reimburse the township for compensation as a trustee, Geary said he will ask State's Atty. Michael Waller to issue a cease and desist order preventing the township from pursuing the case further.

"Too much taxpayers' money already has been spent. As far as I'm concerned, the matter is a dead issue. I'm satisfied that the Appellate Court finding proves that I didn't do anything wrong."

Appellate Court judges sitting in Elgin found that separate compensation paid as a trustee was not in violation of the constitution because trustees did not authorize the pay after Geary was elected.

At stake was $12,700, the amount paid Geary as a trustee in addition to his supervisor pay since first elected 28 years ago.

"I'm sure the township paid more than that in legal fees," a jubilant Geary declared this week following the Dec. 31 decision.

The question of separate compensation first was raised by Trustee Rodney Rockenbach before the bitter election of 1989 where Russell Christian defeated Geary, who then was serving as County Board chairman. Geary chose to retire from politics the following year upon concluding his County Board term.

A long time Grayslake resident, Geary now resides in Round Lake.

In discussing the favorable Appellate Court decision, Geary reiterated his stand that the question of separate compensation was a "flimsy" charge and an underhanded manner to defeat him.

"The only thing is that it worked. I lost the election, but I feel vindicated now."

Represented by Atty. Rudy Magna Jr. of Gurnee, a long-time Geary foe, the newly elected Avon board of trustees made reimbursement of the trustee pay as an early order of business upon taking office.

Christian and Magna proceeded with the case even in the face of an opinion from Helen Rosenberg, head of the civil division in the state's attorney's office, that the question of fraud or violation of the Illinois constitution didn't apply in Geary's case because approval was voted "openly and before the term started."

Under Illinois law, compensation of elected officials specifically is prohibited during their term of office.

Geary said he had 50 years of precedent on his side since the practice of trustee pay began under his predecessor, the later M.E. Murrie, and was continued during his term until the 1989 campaign began heating up.

The embattled Geary blamed Rockenbach for conducting a campaign to destroy his credibility.

The former Lake County political powerhouse called lack of sufficient study and review in the court of the Judge Roland E. Herrmann "a sad commentary on the judicial system." Herrmann retired last Dec. 1.

Geary said it is ironic that the newly elected board under Christian voted to pay newly elected Town Clerk Kathleen Lennon $200 per month more at its first meeting May 16, 1989. "That was a direct violation of the constitution, but no one ever said anything about that. I doubt if the trustees even knew what they were doing."

The Lennon pay was approved by Trustees Arden Babcox, Don Bauer, William Donahue and Rockenbach.

Geary now is engaged in an investments and financial counseling business.

More Geary action mulled

Avon Twp. board members will consider pursuing their two year-old legal case against former Supv. Norman Geary when they meet Monday, Jan. 13.

This follows on the heels of a decision by the state Appellate Court to return the almost two-year-old case back to the Circuit Court.

"Nobody won and nobody lost," said Avon Twp. Supv. Russell Christian about the decision handed down by Judge Roland Herrmann just before he retired from office last month.

Atty. Rudy Magna, the township attorney, "says we have a good case" Christian said. "The court wants more detail."

Asked how much the township has incurred in legal costs, Christian said he did not know for certain. He said it was less than one-half the amount the township is attempting to recover from Geary.

15 ways of getting a bigger tax refund

If you'd like to give yourself a bigger tax refund, the Illinois CPA Society suggests 15 areas for you to review closely when calculating your bill to Uncle Sam.

Dependent Exemptions—Dependent exemptions directly reduce your taxable income. If in 1991 you provided more than half the support for one of your in-laws or even a stepparent, you may be able to take a dependent exemption of $2,150.

Medical Bills—Many unreimbursed medical and dental expenses are deductible to the extent that they exceed 7.5 percent of your adjusted gross income (AGI). Your AGI is income from salary, dividends, interest and other sources, minus certain adjustments, such as alimony payments and contributions to an Individual Retirement Account (IRA).

Contributions to IRAs—If you (and your spouse) don't participate in an employer's retirement program, you can deduct up to $2,000 in contributions to an IRA if single and up to $4,000 if married. If you work, and your spouse doesn't, you can shelter up to $2,250.

And if you or your spouse is covered by an employer retirement plan, you may be entitled to a partial deduction, depending on your income and filing status.

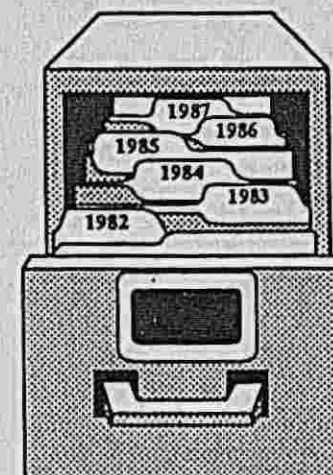

Contributions to Keoghs—If you are self-employed, you may set up a retirement plan commonly known as a Keogh. You can contribute and deduct as much as 20 percent of your earned income or $30,000, whichever is less.

State and Local Income Taxes—If you itemize deductions, you can deduct state and local income taxes.

Real Estate Taxes—As long as you itemize, any property and real estate taxes you paid in 1991 are also fully deductible.

Mortgage and Home Equity Interest—Mortgage and home equity interest expenses generally remain deductible.

Miscellaneous Expenses—Miscellaneous expenses including tax related expenses, some unreimbursed employee business expenses, and expenses associated with producing income can help to offset your income. Most miscellaneous expenses are deductible to the extent that the total of your expenses exceeds 2 percent of your adjusted gross income.

Job-Hunting expenses, such as the cost for preparing your resume and travel to job interviews, can be added to your miscellaneous itemized deductions.

Moving Expenses—You may be eligible to deduct unreimbursed moving expenses if you moved within one year of starting a new job and the distance from your old home to your new job is at least 35 miles further than the distance from your old home to your old job.

Business Meals—You can generally deduct 80 percent of business meals.

Casualty Losses—Events like fires and floods that are sudden, unexpected or unusual are considered casualties by the IRS and the resulting losses can be taken as itemized deductions, provided insurance has not already covered the loss. A number of limitations do apply, so check with your CPA.

Charitable Contributions—Generally, if you itemize on your tax return, you may deduct contributions of money or property that you make to qualified organizations.

Health Insurance for the Self-Employed—Self-employed taxpayers may deduct 25 percent of their health insurance costs from their gross income.

Dependent-Care Tax Credit—Parents who pay someone to care for a dependent child or relative while they work or look for work may qualify for a special credit. The maximum credit is $720 for one qualifying dependent and $1,440 for two or more.

For more information on deductions and tax credits that can reduce your tax dollars, contact a CPA.

Time to start wrapping up another tax year

Your IRS tax forms have probably arrived in the mail already. And your W-2s are on their way, too.

Yes, it's time to start thinking about wrapping up another tax year. But if you are like most taxpayers, once you start thinking about taxes, more questions than answers come to mind.

To help you get started, the Illinois CPA Society offers answers to the following common tax questions.

Q. For the past three years, I have come just a few hundred dollars short of being able to itemize my deductions. Is there anything I can do?

A. Try accelerating some of next year's itemized deductions into the current year or postponing some of this year's deductions until next year so that the total will exceed your standard deduction in one year or the other. Then you will be able to itemize once every two years and claim the standard deduction in the other year.

Q. I'm a single parent. I pay my mother to care for my son while I work. Can I claim the dependent-care tax credit?

A. Yes, you can as long as you do not claim your mother as a dependent. But be aware that if your mother comes to your home to care for your children, you must pay social security and unemployment taxes based on her salary. You will also need to file payroll tax returns. On the other hand, if you take your children to your mother's home, she is not considered your household employee and you will not face these employer responsibilities.

Q. What's the rule for deducting consumer interest this year?

A. For 1991, no deduction for personal interest will be allowed.

Q. My child earns about $2,000 in unearned income. My business partner tells me I no longer need to prepare a separate return to report my child's income. I thought the "Kiddie Tax" required me to do so. Who's right?

A. The Kiddie Tax does require you to report your child's unearned income. But to make filing easier, the tax law provides that if your child's gross income is between $500 and $5,000, you can now use Form 8814 to indicate that you plan to include your child's gross income on your own return. But there is one factor you should keep in mind. When you include your child's income with your own, you increase your adjusted gross income. This may effect your ability to deduct medical and miscellaneous deductions.

Q. I charged a contribution to a local charity in December. I didn't pay my bill until January. When do I deduct the donation?

A. You get to deduct your donation in the year you charge it; not in the year you actually pay the bill.

Q. I know that certain miscellaneous itemized deductions are deductible only in excess of two percent of my adjusted gross income. What expenses fit in this category?

A. Miscellaneous itemized deductions include such expenses as union and professional dues, small tools, safety equipment and supplies for your job, fees paid to a tax adviser to prepare your return or represent you at an audit, certain travel and lodging costs connected with seeking employment, and investment-related expenses such as a safe deposit box rental fee, the cost of producing or collecting income, and IRA custodial fees.

Q. I just reached 65. Am I entitled to claim a higher standard deduction?

A. Yes. If you use the standard deduction, the law allows you to add $800 to your standard deduction if you are single. If you're married, you may add $630 for each spouse who is age 65 or older.

Q. There's no way I'm going to be able to file my return by April 15. What should I do?

A. You can get an extra four months for filing if you complete Form 4868 and file it by April 15. Be sure to include a check for the approximate amount of tax you expect to owe or you'll be subject to a hefty failure-to-pay penalty. This penalty can be avoided by paying at least 90 percent of your actual tax bill. Remember, you get an extension for filing your return, but you do not get an extension for paying the amount you owe. Also, if you are expecting to get a refund, you should file as soon as possible.

Anchor bank offering long-term fixed-rate mortgages

Anchor Bank now has the availability of competitively-priced, 30 and 15 year fixed-rate mortgages.

"Declining mortgage rates and increased customer interest have told us clearly of a community need for such loans," said John Wolf, president and chief executive officer.

"Mortgage rates are at their lowest point in the last 17 years, and many homeowners are thinking seriously of refinancing their shorter term and double-digit mortgages," he noted. "Other people are looking at purchasing a new home. We can now help both groups, and the loans we offer require a down-payment of as little as five percent.

"Many of the traditional sources of single family residential loans have been hard-hit by the downturn in the economy and by the savings and loan problems," said Wolf. "We felt that we needed to offer a broad array of mortgage products, in order to fill that gap and to better serve our community. Our membership in the Independent Bankers Assn. of America—the 6,000-member trade association which represents community bankers—has given us access to this broader mortgage menu. And to more attractive mortgage rates."

Mortgages now available through Anchor Bank also include seven year and five year balloon and three year and one year adjustable rate loans. All can be converted to fixed-rate mortgages at various points over the life of the loan. Eligible residences also include second homes and investment properties.

More information can be obtained at the bank's offices, Hwy. 45 at Washington St., or by calling John Wolf or John Burnett at (708)548-3000.—Anchor Bank, Grayslake.

Ten tips to ease tax time

Organizing paperwork, files and family records doesn't have to be difficult. The key is to find a system that is easy to follow and sufficiently thorough to cover all relevant topics.

A leading planning consultant has created a list of ten simple steps each of us can follow to become more organized.

1. Centralize records
2. Create alphabetical files
3. Lease a safe-deposit box
4. Log family's data
5. Record family history
6. Prepare a will
7. Establish a key file
8. Compile a property inventory
9. Photograph household possessions
10. Keep duplicate sets of important documents

Before filling out those tax forms this spring, set up a system to get organized. As the years pass, keeping those files and records updated will make reporting to the tax man a little less painful.

6.5%* = 9.02% TAX-FREE • TAXABLE SOMETIMES, LESS IS MORE.

Tax-free investments mean more income for you. In fact, if you're in the 28% tax bracket a tax-free bond yielding 6.5%* pays as much after-tax income as a taxable bond yielding 9.02%.

Watercolor artist at 90

Margaret Salem has always been a conservative dresser, but at 90, she sports a lot of red.

"I musn't be old," she said in a thick German accent.

Like a warning, the five-foot tall dynamo said, "I have seen a much gentler life than today. If I look back from 1901," she laughed, "the development I have seen in this world, I tell you that I am glad to be this age."

After a rolling chuckle, Salem politely cleared her throat then lent a perspective to the past greater than imaginings and giving presence to new life. For now, that will wait.

She once was a nanny for a little baron and baroness at Kammerswaldau Castle in Selsia, now part of Poland. It was her first job. She was 13. Later she worked for the Morning Post in Berlin, then the largest newspaper in Europe, where for more than eight years she was payroll bookkeeper.

Now she is the oldest of 90 exhibiting artists whose works will be on display Jan. 6-31 at the State of Illinois Building in Chicago. Citing a list of jurors with impressive credentials in the field of art who must approve the displays, Salem said, "If you get in there, you really must have accomplished something."

A watercolorist, Salem, who owned the first beauty shop in Lake Zurich, took up painting in 1977. She started with oils but the turpentine fumes took their toll on her health. On her doctor's advice, she switched mediums.

"I never thought I could paint," she said, surprised at the talent which classes at the College of Lake County brought out. Proudly, but modestly, Salem said since the beginning, her work has been displayed annually at the school. Each time jurors select her paintings for a show, however, she still tingles from the thrill.

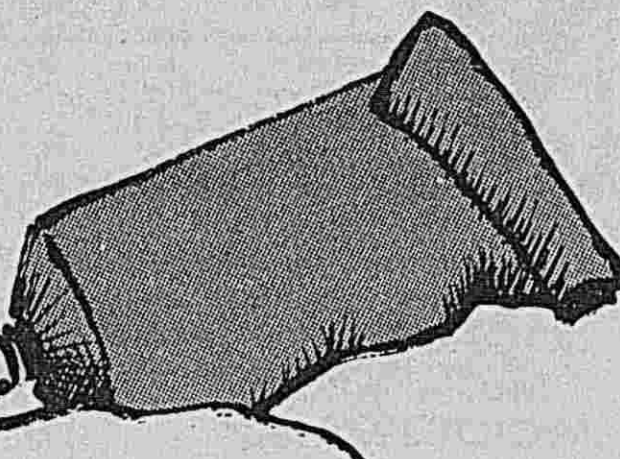

All it took to get the feeling was the interest and initiative to take an art course. "Painting has taught me that anybody can learn anything if they put their mind to it. There is no such thing as 'can't'," she said.

Originally from Berlin, Germany, she came to Chicago in 1928 to make a better living. "After 11 days on the ocean, I never wanted to go on another boat," she said.

"I came right into the Depression. I started going to beauty school. I never was a day out of work. They kept me at the school salon, then I went to the Allerton Hotel on Michigan Avenue in Chicago and was there for several months. Then I moved to the Elston Avenue/Irving Park neighborhood (in Chicago). I was never without a job," she said.

It was 35 cents for a shampoo and set in those days. Then 50 cents. A few years later, around 1940, a manicure was 75 cents. One beauty shop paid her a gold piece every week as wages. Not one was kept for sentimental reasons. "It was the law that you had to turn it in. The government wanted all the gold out of circulation," she said.

Nearly 51 years ago Salem moved from Chicago to Echo Lake then 12 years later to Lake Zurich. Bold, outspoken and eccentric, she retired in 1965 at age 64 after 25 years of self-employment. Her glassed-in back porch in Echo Lake was her first shop. Later she opened the Lake Zurich Beauty Shop at 28 W. Main Street which is now a Marathon service station. Though both businesses were successful, Salem spoke with romance and nostalgia about her back porch shop. Customers,

"Painting has taught me that anybody can learn anything if they put their mind to it. There is no such thing as 'can't'."

she said, lined the house. While getting groomed, "you could look out and see all around," she said. "It was wonderful."

It's the same word she uses to describe friendship. "If I get a call from one of my good friends or family or visit with them, the world turns," she said. "It's beautiful."

Her brush paints flowers, scenery and images of the mind, the biggest of which is a 40-by-29 inch depiction of the firmament. Salem goes for wild colors.

The piece is bright, with orchids

by DEBRA A. SCHWARTZ

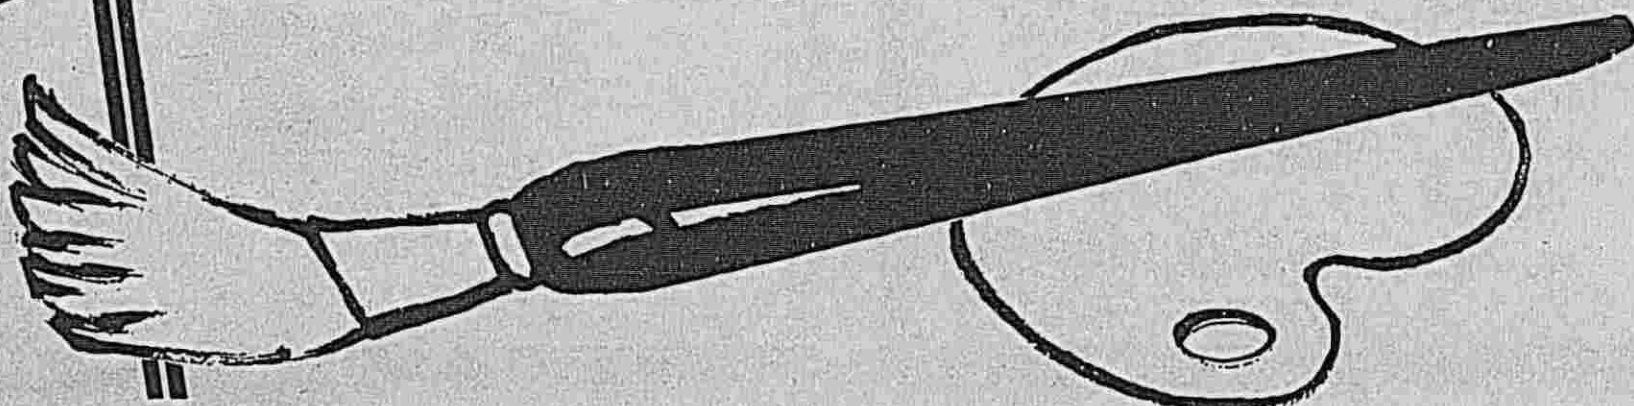

growing out of the sun. Spiritual in nature, its message is "the sun produces all the beauty on the earth," she said. There is a big vessel filled with shells and a beach with shells and stones, all part of the story.

"You do the best you can," she said. Her aspiration? To paint like Vasaly Kandanski, best known for his bright, color-filled abstract paintings.

Will she ever sell her creations? "I work for my family and friends. I never wanted to sell because it's too much pressure. I can't take that at 90 years old," she said.

Nature has guided this graceful woman who lives with Pasha the German shepherd and Tennessee Terry, the rat terrier. "It has taught me there must be a god," she said. The only price on a field overrun with wildflowers, a shimmering small lake, the secrecy and silence of an old dirt road or any piece of scenic wonder is an unattainable one, according to Salem. Her hope is to see it restored and preserved from those who would "gobble it up" and "destroy it so that there will be nothing left in years to come."

It is from there that she derives the colors, flavors and juices of ideas for her paintings. When the weather allows, she'll be at the Botanic Gardens in Glencoe photographing interesting flora and greenery. Or in the forest preserves. Or just at the park. She also uses magazine pictures and works by the masters as a catalyst for concepts. Then she blends what she finds with imagination and knowledge. The result is a look known only as Salem style.

He's the kind of guy who doesn't forget a name, socializes with the audience between songs, jives with a fan, and has the audience clapping and singing along. He has an enormous repertoire from the traditional Irish folk tunes to Johnny Cash's "I Hear the Train Runnin'" to the "Unicorn Song."

A fan favorite is Kenny Rogers "Lucille," the woman who left her farmer husband and hungry kids. Here fans join along in an ad lib refrain which isn't appropriate to quote in a family newspaper. The "Unicorn Song" has the audience miming the various animals. These are the times at an O'Day performance when watching the audience can be as entertaining as watching O'Day.

Whitey O'Day is at the Irish Mill in Mundelein, Fridays and Saturdays throughout January. He starts at 9:30, but get there early because seating goes fast. The Irish Mill is located at 26592 N. Hwy. 83. Call 566-7044.

Local author to sign books at Pied Piper Children's Bookstore

The Pied Piper Children's Bookstore will offer children of all ages an opportunity to have a copy of local author Jane Howard's popular book "When I'm Sleepy," autographed by the Buffalo Grove resident Jan. 18 from 1:30 - 3:30 p.m.

"The words of this particular book are very nice, they would almost put a child to sleep," said Tom Tredinnick, owner of the Pied Piper. "The book is very popular especially since she is well-known locally."

"When I'm Sleepy," was first published in 1985. It is illustrated by Lynne Cherry. As in all "goodnight books" the theme is basic in that all creatures sleep. The child in this story imagines how it might feel to sleep as a cat or a bear does and discovers it is much better to sleep in one's own bed.

Howard is a short story writer and playwright, both published and produced. She has been associated with Apple Tree Theater, which is upstairs from the Pied Piper, in various capacities including assistant director for four years and is active in other literary pursuits such as Off Campus Writer's Workshop.

Howard's next book, "When I'm Hungry," is due to be published this fall. Children and their parents may bring their copy of "When I'm Sleepy" to have it autographed or purchase a copy of the book at the Pied Piper Children's Bookstore, 603 Elm Place, Highland Park, Ill.

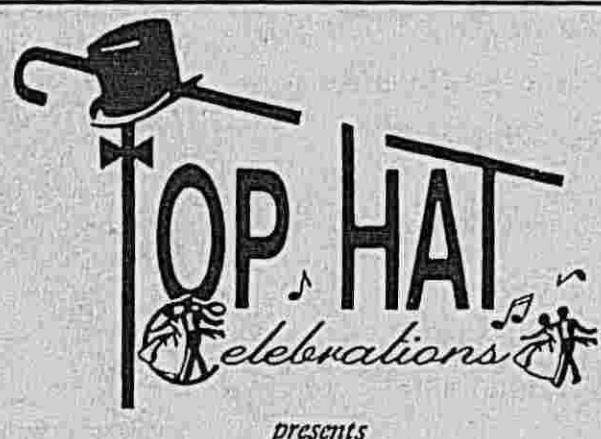

The bookstore specializes in books for pre-schoolers to high school age children and carries a variety of parenting books as well. Story hours for children are also offered at the store. For more information contact Tredinnick at 433-6421.—by RHONDA VINZANT

Streisand's 'Tide' rolls in Every year there's one motion picture that takes the "most romantic" honors. This flick sails the crest of a chemistry wave between the two stars on the ship of a script whose cargo that is believable and moving emotion.

In 1990, "Pretty Woman" and "Ghost" tied for this honor.

Released just before 1991 said goodbye, this year's "most romantic" movie winner just has to be "Prince of Tides," which is reels ahead of its nearest competitor.

But unlike the rather frivolous scripts of last year's winners, "Prince of Tides" is a serious, moving, meaningful and expertly done film in several other categories.

This fantastic production, which we went to see twice by the way, is the baby of Barbra Streisand, who not only turns in an award-winning performance, but who also proves to Hollywood's doubting Thomases that she can direct with the best of them.

La Streisand has made Nick Nolte into a stunningly handsome, top-notch actor in this one. He's already been nominated by several factions as a serious "best actor" contender for his role as a middle age man who learns to deal with his past by forging his up-to-now uncertain future.

Streisand's softly powerful performance as the psychiatrist who helps him find himself during their love affair is an emotional and memorable one.

Streisand, who was not accepted in her first directorial attempt, "Yentel," shows that just as she reached the top of the music and acting profession because of her marvelous personal talents, she directs with the same drive for perfection with which she sings, acts and writes music, the things that have made her a superstar.

The cinematography, mostly shot in New York, is near perfect, and the musical score that floats through the picture is so well-done that one hardly notices how much it enhances each scene because it becomes part and parcel of the whole production.

Three outstanding actresses supply a more than formidable supporting cast with Kate Nelligan playing the mother, Melinda Dillon, Nolte's demented sister, and Blythe Danner, the complex wife, all coming up with the high calibre performances the movie deserves.

It's no surprise that we give "Tides" all five stars -- a don't miss situation.—by GLORIA DAVIS

Nick Nolte, Barbra Streisand

'Mixed Emotions' sputters

Critic's Choice

Is there a place for love—and sex—after the age of 60?

"Mixed Emotions," the Richard Baer comedy at Chicago's Briar Street Theater, tackles the question with some predictable answers.

Betsy Palmer and Tom Troupe are featured as two long-time New York friends seeking to test the waters romantically now that each has lost a spouse.

Palmer is reluctant to violate the memory of her late husband, and the more Troupe, her determined 65-year-old Casanova, accelerates his courtships, the more she digs in her heels and resists.

Yet Troupe's persistence (he tries to approach the situation with logic and makes lists to explain why he's ideal marriage material while at the same time he tries to sabotage his intended's move from Manhattan to Florida) has a familiar ring to it. Occasionally, the two characters do strike a responsive cord with the audience as they work through their feelings for one another and come to terms with the idealism in which they enshrined their previous marriages.

Sadly, when "Mixed Emotions," directed by Reva Stern, isn't bogged down in sentimentality it's overburdened with bland, interminable dialogue. It turns into a half-hour sitcom stretched into a two-hour production.

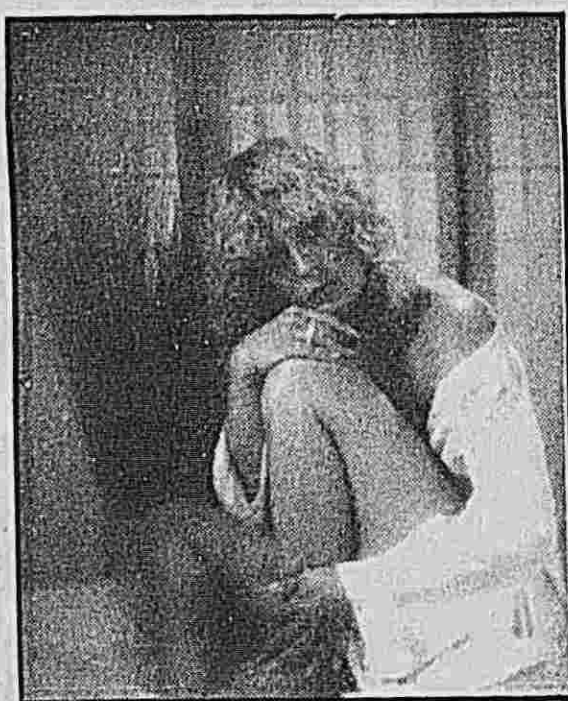

And the coming and going of the two furniture movers (overplayed by Tom Roland and Eric Sait) does little to advance the play.

Its heart may be in the right place, but "Mixed Emotions," scheduled to run through Jan. 26, sometimes sputters as it tries to make the right connections.—TOM WITOM

A Hawaiian Wedding

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT
NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

It's hard to argue that Hawaii is the perfect honeymoon destination. But did you ever consider Hawaii as the setting for your wedding, too?

What could be more romantic than saying "I do" next to a shimmering Hawaiian waterfall? Or perhaps in a grotto lavished in green ferns. Maybe that exchange of vows could take place on a hidden beach with a legendary Hawaiian sunset for a backdrop. You could even out-do Charles and Diana and get married on the grounds of an ancient Royal Palace.

Want to make your wedding even more unique? Skip the tux and the traditional wedding gown and go Hawaiian. No, that doesn't mean the bride wears a grass skirt. Instead she will don a Hawaiian wedding dress called a holoku. On her head the bride wears an intricately woven crown of flowers and ferns called a haku. The groom wears a long-sleeved white shirt and pants accented by a red sash.

Arranging such a wedding is easier than you may think. Many of the finer hotels throughout the islands, as well as many tour operators offer wedding packages. These can be as simple as a quick "I do" on the beach to one in which a Rolls-Royce takes you to a private yacht for a ceremony on a sunset sea. They will handle everything from the marriage license to the cake and flowers. Your travel agent should be able to give you all the details.

Requirements for getting married in Hawaii are few. Each of you must be at least 20 years of age. There is no waiting period and no blood test is required. The bride-to-be does need proof of rubella immunization which can be obtained from your doctor. A marriage permit costs $8 and can be obtained from the Department of Health in Honolulu or from one of the many agents on the neighbor islands.

So what will the relatives think when you tell them the wedding is going to be in Hawaii? My guess is everyone is looking for a reason to go to the islands and you may have just given them one.

OBITUARIES

Dr. W.C. PETTY

Age 93, of Antioch, passed away Wednesday, January 1, 1992 at the Birch Hill Nursing Home, Shawano, WI. He was born Nov. 7, 1898 in Richland County, IL to the late Francis M. and Rosetta (West) Petty. He graduated from Olney Township High School, Olney, IL and held a Bachelor of Education degree from Illinois State Normal University, a Master of Arts degree from the University of Chicago and an honorary Doctor of Humane Letters degree from Lake Forest College. He began teaching in the country schools of Richland County in 1919. On June 3, 1923 he married Lillie M. Murphy in Fairland, IL. He and his wife moved to Grayslake in the fall of 1923 where he was appointed principal and three years later moved to Antioch where he became superintendent of the elementary school. On March 11, 1931 he was elected into office as county superintendent of schools for Lake County and held that position for ten consecutive terms until he retired on August 1, 1971. This long tenure in office made him the dean of the Illinois County Superintendents of Schools. He was a member of the United Methodist Church of Antioch and held memberships in Kappa Delta Pi and Phi Delta Kappa, (both honorary education fraternities), and Pi Gamma Mu, (an honorary social science fraternity) and was part of the evening school faculty of Lake Forest College from 1943 until 1953. For five years Dr. Petty was the manager of the Illinois State Teachers' Reading School Board and was appointed by then Gov. Green as one of the nine members to constitute the Illinois Public School Commission in 1941. One of Dr. Petty's most outstanding achievements occurred on February 23, 1960 when he organized the Special Education Joint Agreement District of Lake County for the benefit of children who could not be adequately educated in the regular classroom. He was also a past director of the First National Bank of Antioch. Over the years, Dr. Petty had been honored with many awards of recognition. In March of 1956 he was honored with a life membership in the Illinois PTA and was recognized by the school administrators of Lake County; in 1963 the Lake County Civic League presented the Jack E. Sams Award for outstanding service to tax payers by a Lake County Official and he was Honored by the Lake County Chapter of the National Retired Teachers Association in 1963. Also in 1963 the Grove School Inc. recognized his dedication to the handicapped children of Lake County. On March 7, 1970 he was honored at a VIP Dinner Dance sponsored by St. Peters parish in Antioch and on May 4, 1980 the new W.C. Petty Elementary School was dedicated in his honor.

Survivors include three sons: Frank E. (Betty) of Los Angeles, CA; William E. (Trudy) of Antioch; and Dr. R. David M.D. of Shawano, WI; eight grandchildren and fourteen great-grandchildren. He was preceded in death by his wife Lillie on September 24, 1984, and three brothers, Ray, Harry and Bert; two sisters, Ruby and Mable and one infant brother.

Funeral services were Monday, January 6, 1992 at the United Methodist Church of Antioch with the Rev. Kurt Gamlin officiating. Interment was at Hillside Cemetery, Antioch. Friends desiring may make contributions to the United Methodist Church of Antioch, the Antioch Rescue Squad or the Lake Region Historical Society in his memory. Arrangements were handled by Strang Funeral Home, Antioch.

He was currently a 7th Grader in the Burlington Public Schools, a member of the Burlington Back 40 4-H Club and Buck Tail Archers.

IT'S A BLESSING IT'S FINALLY OVER.

Now she'll be able to get back to a normal life.

Maybe...Maybe not! Everyone grieves in their own way and it is unfair to decide how another person should grieve. Psychologists do feel that many people who have had a long time to prepare for a loss may have an easier emotional adjustment than others. But we are also told that people who have been through a long illness with a loved one are frequently physically and emotionally drained. They may even be more susceptible to illness themselves. Having been through weeks or months of stress they may have eaten and slept poorly. They may feel guilty for feeling relief from their heavy burden. Those wanting to help a grieving person should be aware of these feelings. Friends should be available to encourage the bereaved to take care of their physical and emotional health, to reorganize their life and to become active again.

Serving you anytime... anywhere.

Man faces nine years in death of girlfriend

An Antioch man faces up to nine years imprisonment after he was found guilty of reckless homicide.

Robert Stanley, 23, was convicted in the death of Sheri Best, 17, Round Lake, on Oct. 5, 9:30 p.m. near Orchard Court and Idlewild Drive in Round Lake Beach.

According to reports, the one-vehicle accident occurred when Stanley's vehicle struck a tree at a high rate of speed. Authorities speculated the accident may have resulted from a drag race.

Best died within an hour of the accident of multiple head injuries in Condell Medical Center, Libertyville.

Stanley was also transported to Condell with severe chest injuries. Two hours after the accident, his blood alcohol was tested and showed a level of .094, just below the legal driving limit of .10 percent.

Best and Stanley, had dated only two months when the accident occurred. Earlier the same evening the couple attended a party where they reportedly discussed their future together.

At the recommendation of his attorneys, Public Defender Joseph Collina and Asst. Public Defender Dorene Kuffer, Stanley chose to resolve his case with a stipulated bench trial which eliminates witnesses.

Only summaries of testimony are presented.

The half-hour proceeding resulted in a guilty verdict. Stanley is expected to appear for sentencing Feb. 27.

'Devils hope to iron out rough spots in NSC tilts

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

While pleased with his team's winning eight of its first 10 games, Warren boys basketball Coach Darrel Bader knows work still remains to be done.

"We have not hit on all cylinders yet," Bader said.

The Blue Devils, 3-0 in the North Suburban Conference and 8-2 overall, return to the normal grind of NSC doubleheader weekends this week. Warren is at Mundelein Jan. 10 before hosting Zion-Benton Jan. 11. Both games begin at 7:30 p.m. Warren enters the week tied for first with Stevenson in the NSC.

Mundelein is at non-conference Grayslake Jan. 11.

Warren captured the consolation title at Pontiac, winning three games after losing one. The Blue Devils edged Alton 59-56 for the consolation title and also beat St. Mel and Pontiac.

"Ben Bongratz continued to play the way he did a couple of games before the tournament. He had 16.5 points a game, shot 57 percent from the field and had 9.8 rebounds a game. Craig Shelton is starting to come around with better and better shot selection and he has improved his floor game. Andy Dyakon had an outstanding tournament, shooting 23 for 30 from the field for 73 percent. He gives us production off the bench and all of our post players have been doing a good job," Bader said.

The improvement comes when six-foot-six Tim Kohn, Bongratz and Dyakon can all put together strong games at once.

"He has played effectively since the beginning of the year and his confidence has been growing. He is a little unorthodox but he is getting a lot better defensively," Bader said of Dyakon.

Warren gave its players time off for the holidays. It was the first rest since August for the football players.

Congrats to winners

Suzanna Borsnik, age three (on counter) helped congratulate winners in a give-away contest sponsored by area businesses. Mister Muffler's Gurnee location started the contest, which grew to more than a dozen area stores. From left: Leo A. Brown, Thomas A. Parker, Harold Geron, Deanna Ottlinger and Arelene Battistore. Borsnik, of Zion, is a Miss Personality winner in the National Discovery Pageant.

Gurnee firemen help woman give birth

The call came on Dec. 26 at Grand Oaks Apts. Captn. Ron Gramer, firemen-paramedics Scott DePauw and George Tejcek assisted as Bonnie Simon gave birth to her first child.

Fire department officials report Mom and her son are doing well.

In other calls, a $5,000 loss was reported in a truck fire on I-94 Dec. 27. The 1978 truck, owned by North Shore Distributors of Wheeling, caught on fire by undetermined cause. There were no injuries.

A refuse fire was reported Dec. 26 at 600 block of Chip Ct., but there was no loss.

Two automatic responses to Waukegan were reported Dec. 22.

Forest Preserve chief ruled off March ballot

After eight years on the Lake County Board, Andrea Moore will soon be history.

The president of the Forest Preserve District has been disqualified from running in the March primary due to faulty nomination petitions.

In a last-minute decision to seek reelection to her old job, Moore used candidate petitions from 1983. Unlike the new ones for this election, they did not contain the dates of circulation. A three-member committee of the Lake County Board ruled this made her ineligible to appear on the March 17 ballot.

This still leaves Moore in the race for state representative in the new 61st Dist. Although candidates have yet to file petitions for any of the legislative races, Moore announced in November she will run. She is rated as qualified in this race by the Lake County Republican Central Committee along with another announced candidate, Libertyville Twp. Supv. Ralph Swank.

Moore decided just before the mid-December County Board filing deadline to seek her old job. She said this was being done in the event a pending remap of state legislative districts pitted her against two incumbents. She did not want to run against either state Rep. Virginia Fiester Frederick (R-Lake Forest) or, remotely, against state Rep. Robert Churchill (R-Lake Villa). Deputy State's Atty. Helen Rozenberg. The ruling came Jan. 3.

Panthers mourn death of hoops player Brown

by STEVE PETERSON

Lakeland Newspapers

Round Lake High School's boys basketball team is mourning the death of one of its own.

Mike Brown collapsed after practice Saturday at the high school. Brown, 17, was transported to Condell Memorial Hospital by Round Lake Area Fire and Rescue and was pronounced dead at the hospital.

"The team is in a state of shock; it is hard to read. Any time you lose a teammate it is traumatic," athletic director Ken Ricci said.

The team was conducting a routine practice Saturday when Coach Bob Ward called his team over at one end of the gymnasium, as is customary. Brown, though, did not come with the rest of the Panthers.

"Bob met with the team Saturday night and last night (Sunday)," Ricci said.

"It is awful tough for them. They are going through a myriad of emotions. You try to talk to them, individually and as a team. You pull together as a team," Ward said.

Brown, five-foot-seven inches, was expected to play on the junior varsity team, if not the varsity, Ward said. He was also a prospect for the football and track squads.

Lake County Coroner Barbara Richardson said a toxology was expected to be performed on Brown's body as there were no obvious causes. "We really do not know what caused this," she said.

CPR was performed at the scene by coaches.

"It puts basketball into a real perspective," Ward said.

The Panthers were 8-5 for the season but did not play a Tuesday game against Woodstock. Brown did not play for the Panthers the first half of the season, as he was ineligible. Brown transferred from North Chicago.

Sequoits feature youth, experience at guard spot

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

It may have happened around supper time during the winter in a certain Antioch neighborhood.

"When we were neighbors, and Tim was a sophomore and I was in junior high we would come up here and watch the varsity games," Jeff Woods recalled.

Woods is a sophomore at Antioch High, learning the ropes of the guard position from Tim Fox, a senior. During those formative years, Woods would watch as the varsity, led by the inside attack of Matt Pelland and the outside shooting of Jeff Becker, competed.

Now, Woods and Fox are among the more consistent forces in Antioch's first half of the 1991-92 season. Fox, a senior, knows what it is like to be a sophomore on the varsity. Not too many games ago, he was in that position.

"Tim has really helped me. He was always better than any of us (in the neighborhood)," Woods said.

"I try and help as much as I can because I remember what it was like for me," Fox said.

"It is pretty unique for us to have a senior-sophomore combination. We don't bring too many people up," Antioch Coach Jeff Dresser said.

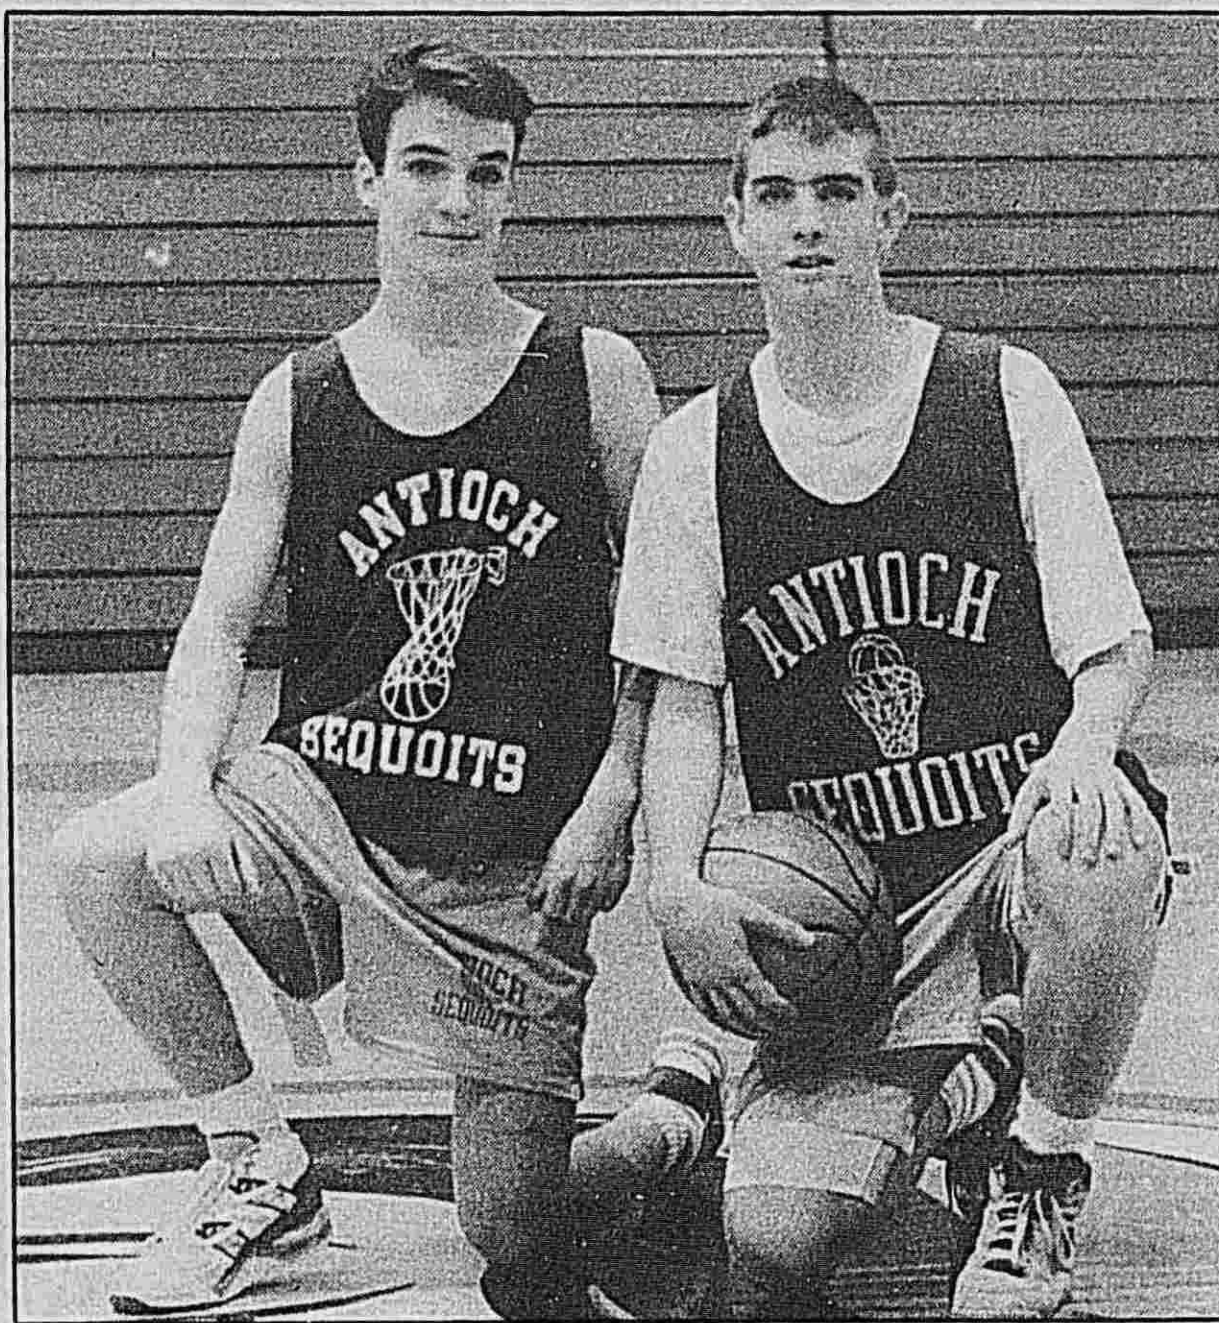

A pre-season talk with Dresser formed Fox's attitude about this year.

"It was tough last year, but I talked with coach a couple of times in the off-season and that gave me a lot of confidence," Fox said.

The Sequoits are 4-8 after losing three of four games in the Rockford Christmas tournament. Antioch is 2-2 in the North Suburban Conference, and Fox knows what it will take to stay in the top division. Antioch is at North Chicago, (1-3, 4-7) Jan. 11.

"Our intensity has to pick up," Fox said. "We are on the verge of being a good team. We've got to take care of some fundamental breakdowns. We could easily have three or four more wins," Dresser said.

Two of a kind

Woods averages 12.8 points a game to 11.9 for Fox. Fox leads in assists, 4.2 to 2.1. Both are strong free-throw shooters, Woods at 80 percent and Fox at 77 percent.

Fox, six-foot-one, is not afraid to go the land of the giants. "I like to draw their big man and then give it up to Chris," Fox said, referring to six-foot-eight Chris Malec. Malec is Antioch's leading scorer.

Last year, Woods was on a freshman on the sophomore team, averaging 15 points a game.

After taking a few days off for the holidays, Fearless Friday Forecast resumes. Going into the new year of Friday night conference tilts with an 8-2 record, here's our best bets:

Grant (1-4, 3-11) vs. Johnsborg (3-3, 8-5), 7 p.m.: the Skyhawks won by 12 the first time out. Grant Coach Maple believes both teams are comparable, and the Bulldogs should challenge. But Johnsborg wins the Battle of Fox Lake by six.

Warren (3-0, 8-2) at Mundelein (2-2, 6-5), 7:30 p.m.: two first-division teams clash here. Warren's Ben Bongratz, Tim Kohn and Andy Dyakon are leading the Blue Devils. It's a classic battle of inside vs. outside (Mundelein, led by Kyle Kessel). Inside team wins by three.

Wauconda (0-5, 2-8) at Grayslake (2-4, 5-8), 7 p.m.: Grayslake has held together despite injury and the Rams are looking for a full lineup in the NWSC game. Grayslake seems to play better at home and this game is no exception. Rams by eight.

Libertyville (3-1, 7-6) at Stevenson (3-0, 10-1), 7:30 p.m.: Stevenson's Chris Coleman & Co. prove too much for an improving Libertyville squad. Stevenson by nine.

Browne outlasts Noble, keeps perfect mark going

by BRENT KILLACKY
Lakeland Newspapers

Two wrestlers square off on the mat, both undefeated, but neither concerned with the fact that a loss will ruin their unbeaten streak.

But the atmosphere was definitely tense at the Carmel High School gymnasium last Friday as undefeated 112 pound wrestler Eric Browne of Mundelein faced Carmel's Derrick Noble in the non-conference match.

Carmel defeated St. Joseph's High School in the first half of the meet 50-18.

"I was a little bit nervous, but I was pretty confident," Browne, a junior, said about his feelings before the match.

Noble, also a junior, said, "I was ready and I knew that the match could go either way."

Neither wrestler said they gave this match any special attention that they would not ordinarily devote to any match.

The fact that their opponent was also undefeated and that someone would emerge out of the match with a first loss on their record was far from their minds.

The actions of wrestling and not the thoughts of their record filled their minds as they battled on the large yellow mat, they both said.

But as the three two-minute periods ended, it was the record that would remain long after the actions would be forgotten. And it was Browne's record (13-0) which would emerge unscathed in a close 10-8 match.

Noble (15-1) was hampered by an injury to the groin region that occurred and halted the match with 55 seconds left in the first period.

"The match could have gone either way," Noble said. "You can't blame it on an injury."

Despite the disclaimer, Noble was visibly shaken by the injury and it took several minutes before he appeared to be fully back into the match.

The match remained close, with each wrestler keeping pace with points.

Browne said he found himself surprised when Noble threw him in the second period. But he said he quickly got off the mat and restored neutrality.

It was during the last 30 seconds of the match that the victor was decided.

"Takedowns decided the match," Noble said. "I couldn't hold it in anymore. I was on my back and I tried to come back but I couldn't. I just waited too long."

Noble tried to come back, scoring two points in the final four seconds, but Browne held onto a two-point lead to emerge as the victor.

"I'm just happy I won that one," Browne said.

Noble looks forward to a prospect of a rematch against Browne during the sectionals, but Browne said he will be moving from the 112 weight class to 119. That would dash the hopes for any rematch.

"I hope he stays at 112 and keeps the competition good around here," Noble said.

As a team, Mundelein (7-1, 3-1) defeated Carmel (5-4, 2-2).

Roberts to judge Olympians

by DOUG DUSIK
Lakeland Newspapers

Alex Roberts will be standing out in the cold this week to get closer to the athletes who could grace America's Olympic team next winter.

Roberts, the director of the Lindenhurst Park Dist., has volunteered to officiate the U.S. Ski Association's Subaru U.S. Championships and quadrennial Olympic tryouts for the cross country ski team.

Competition is held at Giants Ridge ski area in Biwabik, Minn., which is near the U.S. and Canadian border.

Roberts' duties will include checking that athletes complete all parts of the race courses, helping to start the racers, assisting with ski trail preparation and working as a member of the hand-timing and computer-timing groups.

"You feel like you really are a part of sending athletes to the Olympics," he said. "It's the chance to be near high-level sports without having to go to France to see it."

Roberts has been a cross country skier since 1979. When the weather is favorable, he competes in citizen racing, including the 55-kilometer Birkebeiner, a cross country ski marathon held in Cable, Wis.

"It's sort of the Boston Marathon of cross country skiing," he said. The Birkebeiner annually draws 7,000 to 8,000 racers. Roberts has raced in five of them.

He became involved with the Olympic cross country event through a friend, who called four years ago and asked if Roberts would be interested in officiating for the tryouts.

He did it for a week, which consisted of standing in the snow and acting as a "pawn," he said. This year he'll do it again.

CLC women gain third, ready for conference play

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

College of Lake County's women's basketball team had its season-long winning streak end at the College of DuPage (COD) Christmas tournament, but did the next best thing.

That is, the Lancers started another win streak with a 53-50 win over COD following a 76-46 shellacking at the hands of powerful Kankakee.

CLC starts Skyway Conference play this week, with two away games. CLC is at Elgin Jan. 9 and Morton Jan. 11.

In notching the third-place win, the Lancers received key points from Caryn Alexander and Stephanie Seier down the stretch. Seier finished with 15 points while Alexander led the team with 17.

"We were not happy with the way we played last night (in the loss to Kankakee). We came out more aggressively today," Alexander said.

Alexander, a sophomore from Highland Park, said having someone like Seier as an outside threat takes the pressure off.

"Last year scoring was a major burden on me. But having Stephanie here - she is just awesome. For some reason, everyone was quiet for the first two weeks of practice but once the season started, everything seemed to click," Alexander said.

It was Alexander who clinched the win against COD with a free throw with four seconds left.

But it was Seier, a Carmel High graduate and CLC's second-leading scorer, who provided a key scoring run.

CLC had one of its several seven-point leads trimmed to four, 42-38, with just over six minutes left. But Seier ended the team's four-for-21 shooting slump from the field with two field goals and a three-pointer for an 49-38 lead.

"Those points came just after we preached about taking the good shot, not just the first shot," CLC Coach Don Zeman said.

Even after the Lancers grabbed the 11-point lead, COD rallied, trimming the gap to two. CLC did not score for the final two minutes plus from the field, but Alexander's free throw with four seconds left proved to be the winner.

"We would get up by seven or eight points but they would keep scrapping back. We did a nice job of pressing the ball for a full 40 minutes," Zeman said.

CLC's defense set the tone early against COD. CLC led 30-23 at halftime, with 10 of those points off COD turnovers.

Against Kankakee, the Lancers were facing a fellow unbeaten team as well. Two weeks without full practices showed as the bigger Cavaliers, with six-foot-one and six-foot players, gained a 21-point lead by halftime.

With 4:51 left in the first half, the clock went out in the CLC gym. But the Lancers did not have the luck of being able to start over.

Grabbing a rebound

College of Lake County's Melissa Webster pulls down a rebound in game against Kankakee. Webster, a Warren Twp. High graduate, scored five points in CLC's 53-50 win over College of DuPage. CLC is at Morton Jan. 11 in Skyway Conference play.

Carmel guarding against letdown vs. Holy Cross

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers
Carmel High School's basketball team may be experiencing culture shock - East Suburban Catholic Conference style - when the Corsairs travel to Holy Cross Jan. 10.

The Corsairs are coming off a 65-54 loss to league-leading St. Joseph, which is headlined by the blocked by shots six-foot-11 Gerald Eaker and the outside shooting of John Musachio to play the league's last-place team.

"My fear is we come out flat because we ripped them at our place," Carmel Coach Scott Rosberg said. "They're a good perimeter shooting team and we're playing at their place. When we beat them, we were on a roll, but now we have lost two-out-of-three. I hope we come out with a chip on our shoulder," Rosberg said.

The Corsairs tried as best they could to defend against Eaker, who scored 17 points while Musachio added 15. Rosberg praised the job Dan Devito turned in on the star, who is headed for Ohio State.

"Devito stood out defensively. It's tough to ask a six-foot-three kid to guard a six-foot-11 kid. Devito did an excellent job. We prepared as best we could to stop them inside, stressing helping out. I'd rather they beat us from the outside because that is the first part to go, but they hit the three's," Rosberg said.

Devito and Chris Mohr are the top two Carmel defenders in racking up steals. "We have him take the opponents' best player," Ros-berg said of Devito.

St. Joe also won Saturday to extend the lead on the rest of the loop with a 5-0 record, 13-1 overall. Carmel slipped to 3-1 in the ESCC, 9-4 overall.

Offensively, Carmel was led by Jermaine Williams. The junior guard scored a game-high 23 points, shooting over the St. Joe defense from long range.

"He has come along in the last three weeks. He is a point guard who can score but he also has to distribute the ball. He really understands that well," Rosberg said.

Patriots win, Bears begin

Stevenson began 1992 in fine fashion by capturing the 12-team Larkin Invitational. The Patriots posted a 137.1, while second-place Elk Grove finished with 135.3.

Allison Galatte and Elana Patt tied for second in the vault at 9.4. Galatte was fifth in the all-around at 34.7, while Amy Citron was fourth on both the beam and bars at 9.1 and 8.5, respectively.

"This was a real shot in the arm for them," Stevenson coach Judy Harwood said. "They were down after the Maine West meet. I'm real pleased they came through and got a win when we didn't expect it."

Stevenson has lost the services of junior Nicole Mariani, who suffered a broken ankle in the Maine West Invitational Dec. 28.

Lake Zurich finally got out of the gate under new coach Vicki Summers, but the inexperienced Bears were topped by Cary Grove 99.5-97.7.

"I think they did marvelously," Summers said of her squad. "We still have some injuries and illness and our season was delayed by a month.

"Everyone on the team did very well for the first meet. Several of the girls had never, ever been in or at a gymnastics meet in their lives."

Freshman Lindy Chisamore took the all-around at 27.8, while Junior April Pedersen was third at 25.5.

Other members of Lake Zurich's team are Amy

Meghen Hansen and Vicki Vassallo.

After a long break, Carmel is preparing for the Girls Catholic Athletic Conference Meet at Queen of Peace Saturday.

Deadline nearing for bowlers

Approximately $17,000 in prize money will be available to winners in this season's Lake County Bowling tournament. Registration deadline is Jan. 12 for the team event Feb. 8 - 22 and the single and doubles event will be Feb. 23 - March 8.

Some 22 people participated in last year's event. All events will be at Bo's Bowl in Zion. This is the 63d year for the tournament.

"We hope this year's event will be one of the biggest," promoter John Miller said. For more information, call Miller at (708) 336-0679.

Sixteen lanes will be used at the bowling alley, with Stroh's Beer and Fred Losch Distributors sponsors.
